Subject: IF ANYONE TELLS YOU TO CUT YOUR HAIR, TELL THEM TO GO TO BLOODY HELL- has anyone ever told you your wife looks like a movie star-RE: Much different response on Military.com

I have got off to a late start today, following a "realignment" of certain very "strategic assets".

Not to mention I had a rather lengthy phone call with Mr. Sidney Abelski Esquire, my very first American friend who I was living with in Skokie, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago housing many of the few remaining remnants of the Jewish Holocaust of World War II where a group of Nazis once marched just prior to my leaving for New York back in 1980.

To mention little of both of Sydney's parents were imprisoned in Auschwitz.

To mention in passing Sydney remembering well not only when Marie and I stayed with him when he first got married a decade or so ago but also the first time we met after I had first journeyed to San Francisco, California, shortly after immigrating from South Africa to the U.S. on March 17th, 1978, armed with a "Letter of Introduction" to my uncle David Gevisser's lawyers on Bush Street, who in turn provided me with a "Letter of Introduction" to the senior partner of the law firm in Chicago where Sydney was working before he then decided to branch out on his own.

Today Sydney, age 60, is still "young enough in the tooth" to remember my Royal Mater-Mother visiting with the two of us just weeks prior to my moving to De Beers' most significant "price fixing" operation on United States soil where the only "instruction" given by my very "proud" mother, once I had proven I had more than very strong arm muscles was,

"If anyone tells you to cut your hair, just tell them to go bloody hell!"

Adam, are you saying you have no suggested edits or additions?

Why would you be waiting for people I contact publicly or privately for "ideas" when you have "all the time in the world" to date people on the internet who don't have a pot to grow their own weed let alone a pot to pee in or a single thought worth talking about other than the fact that they don't have a single thought worth talking about and to ask each and every one of them as well as every single name on the dating websites you have come across and the thousand more or so you could reach during the remainder of the day to get their opinion on your idea.

Subject: Seminar model idea

What do you think about making the seminar free and just charge for participation in a chat room or in an instant message Q&A?

The model could bring in subscribers to your weekly Q&A sessions and news letters, allowing for consistent revenue in addition to charging for live seminar workshops.

The fact that you are a product of 3 generations of big U.S. government handouts stolen from the world's poor and therefore used to taking and taking until you realize you can't get blood out of a stone doesn't mean that I will go along with your nonsense apart from using your foolishness to increase the circle of those dependent upon my insight and analysis of the important events of the day.

You would agree at first that it is very easy for me to be a "loner" out here on The Internet versus having to deal with those who are more comfortable in "pressing the flesh" who mostly waste so much time even when it is mostly all about getting laid given how it is so much more efficient to spell everything out via email well ahead of rubber stamping meetings and only getting together to simply "toast" the next foreplay encounter which get increasingly less as each and every one of us are that much closer watched.

Not to mention yet again, how very disruptive it is mostly for US Americans who don't live all that well; on the contrary, the overwhelming majority of US Americans have the most boring lives, work in dead end jobs, no savings, a paycheck from being out on the street, to now be founding out, courtesy of me of course, that they have been so very "short changed" by their corrupt government using the Armed Forces of the United States to steal the world's gold all for their own personal accounts, beginning with all the gold stolen from South Africa by the 3 Branches of the United States Government including the Supreme Court of the United States during the 45 odd year reign of the brutally repressive South African Apartheid Regime.

The instant you figure out why it is that I have such a very significant footprint on the internet so your mind goes back to the "helmet" email sent by my very "choice word" F-C wife to her fuckhead ex-husband The IT aka The Sperm Donor aka Dr. John BIG Ben Stewart MD [see below] which quite obviously enough people in the world have "voted" to be their repeated, "first choice" which is why it continues to "beat out" trillions of other Internet pages, so you too will get that much quicker "with the program" without bothering to tell me, "Gary, you know there is this so very nice, so very warm and fuzzy, so very English expression, 'You catch more flies with honey than with vinegar'".

Only a fucking idiot would want to catch a fly that makes it its business to suck on shit.

Please give me your definition of what it means to be "mellow".

Marie does not believe I should be calling myself "mellow" even though when my pulse was first taken yesterday it registered 41 beats per minute causing my physician's nurse to make me anxious when saying without mentioning a word, "I think we have a problem here" that by the time she grabbed a finger from my other hand, almost yanking my left arm out of its socket, the pulse reading rose dramatically to 51 b/p/m which didn't seem to bother my physically fit physician who put it down to my regular high altitude hiking in the most awesome Cleveland National Forest.

A most attractive woman wearing tight leotards underneath very short running shorts and a very bright and tight red running top just raced by heading south along the ever narrowing bluffs here in Del Mar, before then, within 30 seconds, heading back, turning her head just slightly to the right and smiling.

To repeat what to many again obviously explains why when The IT's JoNathan's one buddy is being made to "pay" for having taunted a much bigger bully, JoNathan thinks he will make the bully "pay" by breaking his fin; such extraordinarily poor conditioning again so very obviously traceable right to the big 3 story home of The IT and his cowgirl Dawn and all those worthless succulants who suck up to them.

John Ben,

Since we have now spoken with John P. who confirms what JoNathan told us this past Thursday when he came home from school that you really didn't have any problem to speak of with M H other than perhaps he was a "little rough around the edges" but not enough for you to want to remove our now 12 year old boy from under his "command and control" take another look at what I wrote M H back on August 30th of last year who during this deafening silent period saw fit to maintain contact with you,

"...I will not watch quietly as my son who you keep calling John makes a detour to avoid your reprimand clearly intimidated by your remark, 'I have nothing to say to you!' and maybe dreading what was coming next JoNathan decided to continue wearing his baseball helmet through your post game speech so as to protect his head from your blows..."

Mr. P. wanted to know whether I would pull out our JoNathan should you be one of the assistant coaches and I said I would leave it up to the league to exercise good judgment, perhaps though, you could help them make the right decision by clarifying your position in writing why you are so wishy washy, our JoNathan not as confused as u would prefer him to be, agree?

Marie Dion Gevisser

Your father stood by as his step-father not only fiddled your father's one younger brother but in all likelihood you as well as your father, but could you in a million years see your disgusting father doing nothing were he an assistant baseball coach as the out-of-control baseball coach took "pot shots" at you in full view of a packed grandstand, and then to top it off, brushes off this most brutal beating without any bloodletting, apart from blood draining from your brain causing you today permante and iirreversible brain damage, declaring, "Perhaps he was a little rough around the edges".

I strongly suggest not.

I just checked my heart and it is still beating.

BTW, did you not think or did you not think I would notice you haven't even bothered to address my first request contained in the first sentence of my 3,688 word response?

To repeat:

I don't have the time to read all the stuff. If you think what is going on at military.com is critical for me to know, make certain you have thought long and hard, run it by an author as well as editor if you think it will help, then email me with it all spelled out in simple English leaving ABSOLUTELY nothing to the imagination.

Yes, please stop by the cliff house and bring me a most delicious vegetarian sandwich and if I am not here, since I may decide after responding more to your "seminar idea" to go swim in the ocean all the while enjoying when coming up for air the most beyond belief beautiful, so very exotic cloud formations that my "smile to die for" French-Canadian wife Marie and I began witnessing when first rising early this morning, but you cannot come any later than 4 since I am leaving for the stone home at 4 sharp.

Not to mention that of course everyone other than Marie when she is acting, would agree is far more beautiful, head and shoulders sexier than the French-Canadian actress Juliet Binoche who plays "Marie" in the movie Dan in Real Life which I saw on preview at Netflix.com, only available on DVD in March, just in case you or anyone else is interested.

The following series of photos were taken around 8:30 this morning.

Notice the start of the rainbow to the furthest right of the cliff house view and by the time I pointed the still digital camera back to the front, the rest of the rainbow appeared.

Now it looks like this.

The new glass railing causing the "color separation".

This is a documentary that talks about the Federal Reserve and the role of big bankers such as JP Morgan and Rockefeller that helped get the Federal Reserve and IMF founded and the power that it gives them.

Unfortunately the producer of the film is dead.
