Subject: FARFETCHED...LATE RECOVERY - RE:

I am back in Del Mar but I think I have the flue, certainly a very sore throat.

The video is important so long as it is not jittery and so you would need to make certain of that before I bother any more.

I have given you enough information as well as feedback on your "distractions" to complete the question of what just3ants.com is all about but I don't depend on you for "getting it".

I decided yesterday following a relaxing afternoon drink with some new Jewish neighbors over at the cabin to focus my energies on writing the book.

It was just a couple of choice words, "farfetched" and "late reaction" that "triggered" my sensing that the timing is right.

Then when we got back to the cliff house and JoNathan let us know, "Guess what is happening tomorrow?" that had him beaming from "ear to ear" that may have come right before or right after he showed us a new customized surf board he had bought that don't come exactly "cheap" bearing in mind it was no more than 7 months ago he experienced the same "happiness" with the last board that has a few dings in it that had me remembering back when I was a kid and the best surfers in the world managed to pull off the most extraordinarily difficult maneuvers on boards held together with duck tape that is surely not as good as duck tape today, I realized how difficult it is for those "comfortable" to change their "leopard spots" especially when it is so very easy to just take the money and so what that you have to put up now and then with those co-opting-corrupting you making you feel guilty who also realize that as time passes by the only way you can "hold on to the love" however, feigned is to give those you have co-opted-corrupted not only all the money they "demand" but their "space" as well.

When you believe in your heart of hearts that nothing will change, that the rich will always get richer and the poor poorer, and that when death, injury or dismemberment comes it will only happen "once" and if not then those less "fortunate" don't have any greater prospects, most likely less chance of getting their bodies repaired and if in the most chronic pain if one has the money then one can afford the necessary drugs to eventually commit suicide, then again why not make it easy for yourself and just, "take the money".

So why shouldn't I at least take a shot at making a whole bunch of money without of course blackening my hands and to share such wealth along with my knowledge with all those suffering horribly now particularly in other parts of the world as a result of our induced genocides all geared to allow those who have stolen the most to keep their ill-gotten gains as long as possible and to be so very generous and gift them to their co-opted-corrupted offspring.

One other thing I have committed to doing this week is to meet with our young, hard working friend Brad who is learning a new business that Marie and I introduced him to a few months back that should do rather in a depressed economy since it is a repair service for the automobile business, specifically repairing broken windshields.

You may recall that Brad was just a year old when his father became a paraplegic following an automobile accident where he was the passenger and in all likelihood the driver who may have been killed, fell asleep at the wheel.

You may also recall we have another friend Michael who is a quadriplegic following a diving accident when he was also very young and athletic.

One other item on my agenda this week is to meet with the physician who purchased the stone cabin back in 1953. Today at 94 Mr. Telford is on a ventilator but according to his 65-year old son is refusing to "give up on life" even though he is close to broke and will certainly be if he survives his daily health care that is soon going to be costing him some US$660 when his insurance runs out and then he will be eligible for the government MedicalCare which of course all those making a mint off the disastrous medical system in this country can't get enough of.

Unlike most if not all medical doctors practicing today who went into medicine for the money Mr. Telford and his brother quite obviously did not; not to mention that his brother soon after medical school was killed when he dived in to a shallow pond and broke his neck.

It looks like we might have another storm brewing.

I just turned around to look at Marie who is sitting on the king sized bed trying on a pair of very sexy stockings although she isn't going to be going very far today given the lower back injury she sustained when she lost her footing when traversing a rock not long after we ran into this Jewish couple who have played now a pivotal role in me writing this book, THE HISTORY OF MONEY CREATION AND ITS FUTURE! which of course I have "spelled out" already in quite some detail in all my email communications but not in a book form which I doubt very much will change the behavior of those "comfortable" but for those who are not, it could very possibly be revolutionary.

There is good reason why if you are not healthy life is hell and why you should make the most use of the limited time you have never knowing exactly when your life or health will end but knowing for certain it will occur.

President George W. Bush is calling, I understand, for the day in which Cuba will hold "free and fair democratic elections", quite convinced is our President and the United States Congress as well as of course our out-of-control military-industrial-complex that the discombobulated masses will forget how quickly we got rid of Mr. Aristide of Haiti, not once but twice, when he not only won the presidency in fair and free democratic elections but tried to make good on his commitment to wean Haitians off slave wages by doubling the daily rate of less 40 cents to some 70 or so cents so incurring the wrath of US business interests.

These same discombobulated masses and those far better educated and who know better don't think it is important to examine the United States of America's role in support of the South African Apartheid Regime right at the same time the US Government placed an embargo on Israel that included preventing those of military age from going to Israel in 1948 to join in Israel's War of Independence against the Arab tyrants backed to the hilt by the victorious Allies.

"Farfetched" is what most Americans including Jewish Americans think when first told about that Navy building on Coronado Island shaped in the form of a perfect Swastika, and it is not because they don't want to believe they live in a Nazi country but rather because they have profited so handsomely from having lived in a Nazi country and turned one blind eye after the other.

The United States Government only entered World Oil War II because the Japanese attacked, nothing whatsoever to do with saving the Jewish people of Europe who were wanting to escape a war the United States Government had financed from the very start.

“Late reaction” my ass!

When you finance a war, the last thing you do is get involved until right at the end.

The United States Government financed De Beers at the turn of the last century KNOWING PERFECTLY WELL that in financing this monopoly of monopolies they were not only making good on the wishes of its founder Cecil Rhodes to create a “Secret Society” but they were agreeing to back De Beers with the brute military force of the United States military.

Never forget that us Lily White Wheaty Eaters who have benefited the most from the so very contrived genocides that began with the imprisonment of Afrikaner Boers during the American financed Anglo Boer War of 1899-1902, constitute a very small percentage of the world’s military personnel; not to mention that Black American Devin Standard’s one uncle was on a US warship during World Oil War II and understood perfectly well that WOW II had nothing whatsoever to do with improving his civil rights or those of our slave wage earners anywhere in the world including South Africa when the Australian government refused landing rights to his warship because there were Black Americans on board.

Moreover, when in 1938 Princeton University freshmen voted Hitler the greatest human being and Einstein second, anti-Semitism was rife in the United States.

Did you ever watch that Canadian movie I recommended?

I should have a lot of time this week. Can we work on getting the video done? Are you back in Del Mar?
