Subject: I AM A SOUTH AFRICAN JEW RE: did u hear back from devin yesterday?

It is possible that Devin before editing/contributing to your analysis of the Israeli Military Intelligence report, increasingly having the intended effect of paralyzing the US economy without US military commanders willing to go to war with either Israel or China, let alone the combined forces of the Peoples Republic of Communist China and the Israeli Defense Forces led by the most brutal Israel Air Force, is waiting for you to place a "Feliz Navidad" song on just3ants.com before "dedicating his life to the cause".

Moreover, such an ingenious report that could have only been dreamed up by the smartest independent thinking people the world has ever known, will inevitably result in not simply US Military Commanders "standing down" but the entire 3 Branches of the U.S. Government, "stepping down".

Not to mention the IMI report that, I alone am broadcasting with of course the consent of both IMI and the Mossad, Israel's most lethal intelligence institute, does not mention stuff like, "Mafia ties..."

How very often do hear a news report, even celebrity tennis players like Andrei Agassi making such extraordinarily moronic statements such as this person or that trade union having "ties to organized crime".

You may be a little too busy with all the things you are doing to know that Agassi made World News Headlines when voicing his concerns that the Russian Mafia had most likely infiltrated the high stakes game of tennis, as if to suggest there is the possibility of single editor anywhere in the world today who cannot appreciate the importance of the deafening silence of both that ingenious Israeli Military Intelligence report that spells doom for the US economy as well as Edward Jay Epstein's, The Diamond Invention, that spells out the extraordinary "Money Power" of the De Beers crime syndicate who make all the rest of world's Mafioso look like "small potatoes".

Not to forget your latest "love interest" who is obviously not distracting you as much as those getting more than their fair share of the graft-spoils of diamond tipped drilling bit oil wars would prefer.

Not to mention an American crewman Al Feliksa on March 21st, 1945 swam to try rescue the nearly incapacitated Jewish South African pilot, Boris Senior who was freezing to death some 800 meters offshore of Venice where the Germans, who had survived this most brutal Allied aerial bombing, were now unloading their guns on the "sitting ducks." Al Feliksa received the Silver Star and Purple Heart for his actions under enemy fire.

To mention little of this same day, my Dad on his 52nd mission, also flying like Boris a Kitty Hawk, was dive-bombing fuel dumps south of Pontremoli with three 500 pounds attached to his fuselage and wings versus Boris who unloaded a 1,000 pound on the big vessel, Otto Leonhardt.

To mention in passing the American rescue plane commander, Lt. Jack Dunn, received the Air Medal for his role in the rescue of Boris Senior.

That 45th mission was Boris' last mission during WW II,

Cutting and pasting – New Heavens – page 25:

The day after my return to the squadron someone said to me, "Sorry to hear about your brother." Shocked, I learned he [Leon] had gone missing a week before I was shot down while flying his B-24 Liberator back from a raid on the marshaling yards of Udine in northern Italy. We had no contact, apart from a very occasional postcard. He was stationed far back in southern Italy at Foggia in a South African Air Force wing while my RAF fighter squadron was near the front line.

A poignant letter from him was waiting for me, telling me that he had got hold of a Primus stove for me. Primus stoves were sought by all of us were virtually unobtainable. My efforts to find out more details of what happened to Leon were in vain, and after a few days I was ordered to return immediately to South Africa. When my sister Selma had entered my mother's bedroom in the morning to break the news. She [my mother] gave one look and asked, "Which one?" She behaved with the dignity that was part of her makeup. In despair and sorrow over Leon's death, my parents arranged for me to return home. They did not know at the time that they had nearly received two telegrams in one week announcing the loss of both their sons.

There are many "connecting dots" between the English-South African Seniors and English-South African Ash-Gevisers whose names I don't believe are mentioned in Boris' book which I have yet to complete; should be able to do so quite easily by the end of the day today.

Boris' description of his last mission that may not come close to his daring during Israel's War of Independence, some 2 years later, has striking similarity with my father's 60th mission.

60	DUST FROM PREVIOUS BOMB BURSTS	OBSCURED THE TARGET SO
	I HAD TO COME FAIRLY LOW BEFORE RELEASING - I FELT	SAW & HEARD BOMBS EXPLODING JUST BY ABOUT SAME TIME
	I MUST HAVE PULLED OUT AT ABOUT 50' TO 100' ABOVE HOUSES	MY ELECTRICAL SYSTEM WENT U/S IN STRAFFING DIVE - WHAT IS
	JOB PUMPING THE UNDERCART DOWN. THERE WERE NUMEROUS	Holes IN WINGS & TAIL PLANE MOST PROBABLY FROM BOMBS - D/H.

Hit badly during the dive on the Otto Leonhardt but managing to unleash his 1,000 pound bomb, Boris goes on to describe what happened next.

Cutting and Pasting – New Heaven – page 12:

I am relieved as the nose comes up, though slowly and reluctantly. For an instant, I see masts ahead and I am shocked to see that they are above my eye-level. I feel a tremendous, heaving lift as the bomb hits the ship, but far too close to my aircraft. My Kitty shudders from the blast of the explosives, and pieces of the bomb burst strike the belly and underside of the wings as I pass directly over the ship. Relieved to find I still have control, I begin to skid my machine wildly as I zoom up and away from the flak. As I turn out to sea, the Kitty mashes upward but too damn slowly, emitting a stream of white glycol coolant liquid.

By the way, preventing German gunboats from reaching Boris having parachuted into the icy waters, were 6 Spitfires.

Once again, Cutting and Pasting – NEW HEAVEN pages 23-24:

Recently, I discovered that a friend of mine called Les [Shagam] was one of the pilots of a South African squadron during the Venice raid and flew one of the six Spits detailed to escort the PBV on its rescue mission. By an extraordinary coincidence, he became a Mahal [volunteer] pilot in 101 Squadron in the Israel Air Force in 1948, and we flew missions together in Israel. I have talked to him about the raid. After realizing it was me he saw in the drink, he told me of his grandstand view of the whole rescue operation. He said the captain of the PBV had radioed them saying that the pilot in the water was in a bad way. Les also described the attack on the German E-boats in the harbor of Venice, foiling their attempts to capture me.

You recall me mentioning Les Shagam who passed away this August; Les, close to my father but much closer to my mother, Les and I last speaking on or around December 1st 2000 when I first broadcast this "The Knotty Jew" as an attachment to my New Beginnings Party invitation first sent to Randall Kaplan whose business partner, Daniel Lewin, an Israeli Special Forces commando, was possibly the first victim of 911.

Not to mention you may recall me mentioning in a communication, I believe it was to Sargent Jensen of the San Diego Harbor Police Department investigating the stealing of my gold and other valuable items by officials and employees of American Airlines earlier this year when I was embarking on our trip to Spain and France, about this Lt. Cohen flight instructor in the South African Air Force who would force my father to repeat ad-nausea "I am a fucking pig", well this Lt. Cohen who I don't believe was Jewish, also gets a "dishonorable mention" by Boris Senior:

Again, Cutting and Pasting – New Heavens page 52:

My instructor was named Cohen, and a friend in the course ahead of me who was also Cohen's pupil complained bitterly about his behavior. Was this coincidence, or was someone arranging for the "Jew boys" to be lumped together? Whatever the reason, we both attained our wings despite our instructor. Cohen was awful. Whether his nerves were shot from a tour of operations in a squadron in North Africa or from instructing I don't know. He screamed and swore at his pupils, and would get so enraged when we made mistakes that he would sometimes undo his harness and stand up in the front cockpit with his control column in his fist threatening to brain us. One of the senior pupil pilots, who also had the misfortune to be assigned to him, had secretly bent the pins in Cohen's parachute and planned to do a slow roll when he got out of his harness hoping to get rid of him for good. Of course, he chickened out.

Cohen did not exactly encourage his pupils, but I managed to be assigned to another instructor who was a relief after him. After my dual time of seven and half hours of circuits and bumps, the instructor moved his stick and said, "Off you go now. You are going to be all right."

Not to mention the first words out of Boris' mouth when he is finally pulled out of the water by the incredibly brave Americans on March 21st, 1945,

I am a South African Jew.

Last time Cutting and Pasting – New Heavens – page 22.

After more vain attempts with the rope, I manage to keep hold of a long wooden boat hook they thrust at me. That is enough, and a moment later they lift me into the Catalina. I am no sooner in the aircraft when I feel the power surge of the engines and we are quickly airborne and heading out of range of the German guns. Through the side of the bouncing aircraft, I hear the sound of the exploding shells near us.

The crew cut off my uniform, taking my wings, ranks, and insignia as souvenirs. By this time I am barely conscious and the puzzled Americans, not having seen a khaki South African Air Force uniform with red tabs on the shoulders, ask me what force I belong to, who I am, and I remember answering, "I am a South African Jew."

You would know that you don't need to have just emerged from 40 years in the Sinai desert so eagerly looking forward to a hot bath, a nice massage, a wonderfully uplifting facial, the undersides of your feet scrapped of any dead skin, not even thinking of a tummy tuck here, a chin up there, a WANTED POSTER, suddenly needing a distraction, in order to appreciate the magnitude of what is going on right now, this very moment.

All the monies spent on wars and not to forget the US$40 billion given in the last 24 hours to US banks along with the US$60 billion given last week, all going to the banks' most "favored" customers who "know better" than to stash them back in US Dollar denomination bank accounts, knowing perfectly well this "gravy train" is fast running out of steam, the U.S. on the brink of the most extraordinary civil war in the history of world; instead the "smart money" has long been moved offshore, just ask Mr. Jeffrey R. Krinsk Esq. who you recall returned this past December 4th from a trip overseas.

The problem, however, the super filthy rich with all their and their children's Trust Funds now face, is the increasingly smiling faces of some 1.5 billion odd Chinese + the rest of the world's masses who have relatives strategically placed all over the world including here in the United States.

Happy is the only way to describe those not simply pushing paper anywhere in the world who in just one instant, now armed with that most ingenious Israeli Military Intelligence report that was first approved by The Peoples Republic of Communist

China, who can take their time unloading worthless-fictitious so very blood stained U.S.-DeBeers-Dollars and at the same time get all those promoting the use of US Dollars demonstrate how exactly they got those monies to then buy up in places like China what they don't already own, as a result of simply having used the brute military power of US-British Military forces to enslave the world's masses.

You haven't forgotten that not only do the Chinese and the Jews set the scholastic levels wherever they go; i.e. not every single Jewish person is as dumb and corrupt as Harvard Professor Alan Dershowitz but the smartest people in the world who also make the world's very best fighters understand perfectly well that the government of the United States of America cannot even begin to explain the protection they afforded the most brutally repressive South African Apartheid Regime beginning in 1948 within a month of the founding of the State of Israel that was inexplicably forced to immediately begin its fight for survival despite some 6 million Jewish people being wiped out in the De Beers sponsored/promoted Holocaust.

It is really not in the least bit difficult to explain to anyone who can understand evidence that World War II was all designed to steal not just the gold of the Jewish people of Germany but all the world's gold.

Whoever has the gold makes the rules!

So where is all that gold American Charles Engelhard shipped out of South Africa?

Certainly, not all of it ended up in Hong Kong as Edward Jay Epstein would have us believe in his Chapter 18 of the Diamond Invention, THE AMERICAN CONSPIRACY!
