Subject: THEY KNOW TEFO GETS IT - RE: problem and solution

Did you see the movie, In My Country starring Black American entertainer Samuel Jackson?

<http://www.exodusnews.com/entertainment/Entertain130.htm>

Alongside an accurate account of the movie, The Diamond Invention, In My Country once exposed, will put to rest the argument by those so very supportive of the De Beers' Truth and Reconciliation Commission that Hollywood movies remain the United States' best export, alongside weapons of course which include those biological weapons development in South Africa under the stewardship of the CIA who in turn cannot be counted on to remain indefinitely loyal to crooks whose weapon systems have yet to touch sides with the miniature neutron bomb the Russian government exploded in Piccadilly Circus not all that long ago.

Not to mention it is US military personnel all over the world waking up to the fact that the problem with them not being able to find people on more than the streets of Amsterdam willing to exchange their worthless-fictitious De Beers-Dollars, has nothing to do with "illegal aliens" entering the US; on the contrary, the "illegal aliens" have been the backbone of the little productivity that exists within the United States and these 20 million or so folks are also now feeling the pinch, and not simply thinking about returning to their home countries but doing so in droves, not wanting to join the economic draft let alone be drafted in to a 3rd rate military yet to go up against China, the world's best military second only to Israel whose Special Forces Commanding Officers will not command their commandos to wage war on those they have trained so very well.

Feel free to comment on the ingenious Israeli Military Intelligence report along with Adam L. Tucker's analysis only available on www.just3ants.com.

Perhaps you can restart the dialogue you had going back in April 2005 with my blotched fat faced cousin Mark by asking him if he is still these days as angry as he was in late 1989 about the Kroks of Twins Pharmaceuticals making tens of millions of worthless-fictitious South African Rands out of their skin lighteners that caused irreparable skin damage to the faces of millions of Black South African women who bought in to "Black is Ugly" when his Trust-Hush-Fund that began with that US$6 million infusion from the Charles Engelhard estate back in early 1971, has the blood spilled from all those poisonous injections administered to naked Black South African men strapped to trees, all stored on CD ROMS which my two-faced Lily White Wheaty Eating cousin has yet to comment on.

There are many angles that you and your friends in South Africa as well as those abroad can work on including contacting folks like Samuel Jackson and asking why he was so very focused on, in his dialogue with that white female Afrikaner reporter, making out that the racial problems in South Africa were primarily because of the Afrikaner Boer-Farmers wanting to hold on to their lands without making mention that nothing could be further from the truth, that in fact Afrikaners led by Field Marshall Jan Smuts, the nemesis of Cecil Rhodes, founder of De Beers, were the most vocal opponents of the United States of America's South African Apartheid Regime granting De Beers not only the mineral rights to all of South Africa's rich mineral resources but access to slave wage earners like Nelson Mandela who ended up being bought, when exactly do you think?

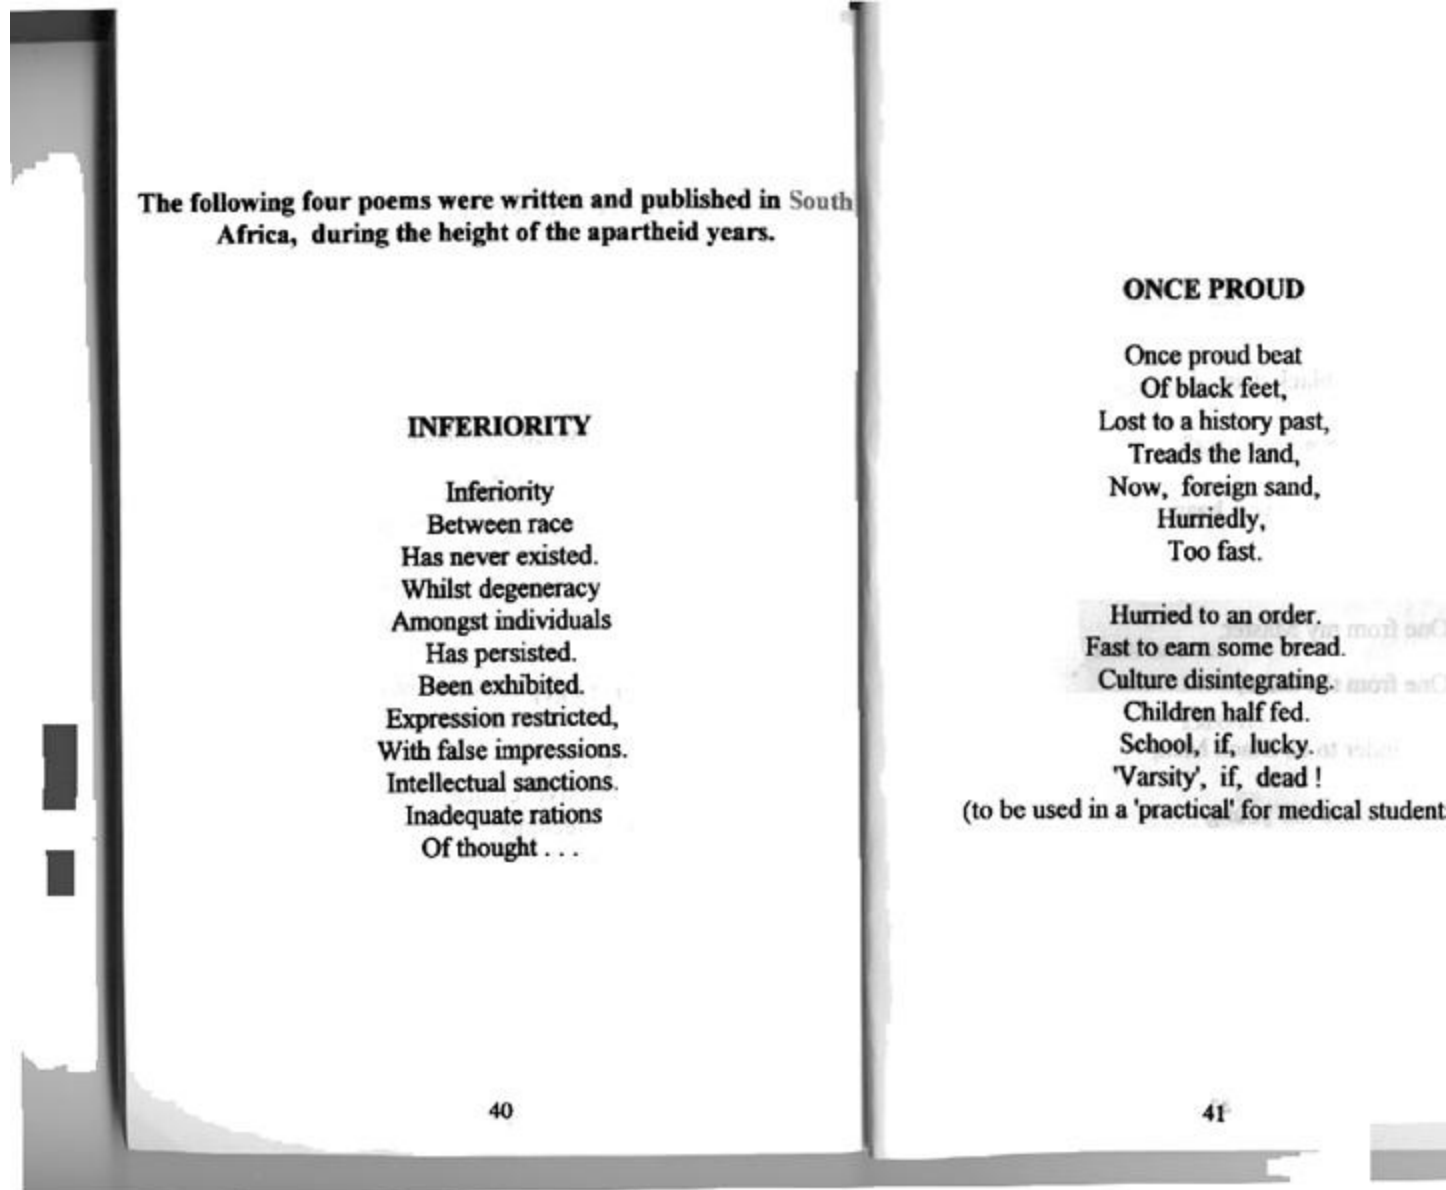

Of course we don't hear too many people in South Africa or elsewhere reciting Mandela's little mouse demand for a "slave wage increase" in his pitiful 11,700 word, "I am NOT Prepared to Die" [sic] speech from the dock of the Supreme Court on April 20th, 1964 that allowed his neck to remain attached to his shoulders when he later viewed in mid-1964 the nuclear powered aircraft carrier USS Enterprise paying a courtesy visit to De Beers-US' Apartheid Regime when its principals, American Charles Engelhard and Anglo South African Harry Oppenheimer were very much alive and as my Royal-Mater would say, "on top of their game!"

"De beer. Fun and games. Fun and games, man" – 1 hour 41 minutes and 2 seconds into Oliver Stone's movie, JFK

True, we also don't hear very much these days or for that matter during the height of the Apartheid Regime when Mark Gevisser's father sold out more than his brother and first cousins, from dead people.

Neil Gevisser's poetry-blank verse book, Picking up the pieces of yourself.

You may also recall me mentioning my Royal Mater-Mother has always, from when I was a little kid and asking her when she was going to introduce me to all her powerful friends-clients held steadfast to her mantra,

"The only people I know of importance are all dead!"

Ps – Remember your questions and answer when speaking with my mother as well as my answer to your question about gold.

You have a lot of people of all races and nationalities feeling extraordinarily anxious right now.

They know, "Tefo gets it!"

They also know, "He is young. It is his country. They didn't think you would survive."

It is not only me who feels, "it is very strengthening to have Tefo at this point probably even more than 2 years ago."

Marie Dion Gevisser also says,

Silence speaks volume and when you break the silence the truth is that much more powerful. It is much more powerful when you can convince someone that has been silent.

It is so powerful.

Whatever Tefo says from now is spotlighted.

Is that what he wants? It sure is what we want. You have to be out there, be out of your skin.

I want to run by you “the problem and the solution”.

Everyone hides behind something going back to when the Emperors/Kings and Queens ruled behind big castle walls offering protection to the serfs in times of need and in exchange the serfs worked the land.

Everyone wants something whether it is the Kings and Queens enjoying the power of ruling all the while not having to break a sweat unless worried about insurrection, a member of the Royal family not caring for the totem pole arrangement.

Once everyone gets their white picket fence around the land that was dished out by the ruling elite to those who did their bidding then they begin to hide but it doesn't change the fact that each one of us has wants.

For you to get a report done you may have to go to a total stranger who has their wants beginning with the fact that they may not have their white picket fence yet or for that matter a piece of land stolen by brute force by the ruling elite, in fact that person may live in an ugly high rise building on the banks of the Yangtze river.

That person may provide you with a solution to your problem but you cannot provide them with a solution to wanting both their own land and white picket fence and then there is that BMW that should be garaged.

So you hide in not sharing your knowledge of how come that person is so poor by simply not responding to their questions all the while having got help from that person in getting your report done.

That person may have, however, an internet connection much faster and more reliable than you and that person may in fact speak as good an English as you and to top it off that person may know much more about English literature than you and me combined.

I ran across such a person in China who was one of the first students to go to university after the end of the cultural revolution but because he didn't have the math skills he had to opt for studying English literature.

Helping Philip “rise to the top” was that he was an excellent runner.

People who “live to learn” listen much better than people who hide by choosing either not to read my highly informative emails or being very selective believing that they have the “excuse” of saying “I don't read your emails so how would I have known!”

Everybody wants something and unless one is willing to be a hermit and has a sufficient large and reliable Trust-Hush-Fund stashed away for a rainy day there is simply no way to escape using the internet, especially email.

What do you think?
