Subject: ALWAYS GREAT TO FIND FELLOW THINKING WEED SMOKERS TOO - RE: Seminar blurb

Thanks for "being there" last evening before Marie took me back to the ER at Scripps hospital, Encinitas.

I think we have now got the pain medication down, thanks to Marie staying one step ahead of the "ca-ching" medical community whose modern day "grounding" can be traced back to those despicable "Doctors Without Borders", that should allow me to pass the stone without much more "heartache".

Not to mention my heart no doubt took a pounding but because I have made it my business-personal from the youngest of age to be "in touch with the heartbeat of the universe" first of all not thinking it smart to ever ignore the Omnipotent Power without ever feeling the need to be in the least bit religious, all the while aware that everything and everyone including the scum have a reason for being here, I should end up "none the worse for wear"; and if I am wrong and I end up dead before a single member of the so dumb ruling elite "gets it", which is not something I focus on for even a moment, at least I know where I am going; and trust me when I tell you there will be no disturbances of any kind.

Your dialogue with that Mindy lady who you met on one of the dating sites and who seems like she mostly enjoys the company of the last person she is with, no different to most of the drug crazed world who are "as good as the last person they spoke with", was totally embarrassing, but a 1 on a scale of 100 when compared to your explanation to me of how "proud" we, those of us supportive of all that we are doing at just3ants.com etc etc, should be, given how she had contributed all of US$5.55, bringing the sum total of contributions to US$29.43; and I am happy to see you have "seen fit" to update this very important number on just3ants.com although I think it is important enough to be on the homepage along with a section that allows anyone wanting to get the "good" as well as the "dirt" on anyone who is anyone, to Google Search that person's name next to mine.

<http://www.just3ants.com/Donations/default.shtml>

Now take another look at the photo below you have seen me use many times in the 6 or so years we have known each other.

Ca-Ching-Ca-ching

The fact that you nor anyone else who is so very familiar with my extraordinary "footprint" on the Internet, has ever asked me what I was doing in New York City in late 1989, handing a US$1 dollar bill to Rabbi Schneerson, considered by many a Black Hatter as the Messiah, isn't in the least bit surprising at least to me, who like all the others lined up for this most extraordinary hypocritical act, was first handed the money by the Black Hatter on the far left holding less than a handful that is "replenished" when the pile in front of Schneerson got too large.

You are aware that the words, "IN GOD WE TRUST" are printed on every piece of United States currency.

So are folks like the Secret Service and Justice Department along with the knowledge of the pivotal role the Black Hatters play, mostly in gathering intelligence for De Beers on secular Jewish people like Jewish South Africans Solly Krok and Jonathan "Trouble Bubble" Beare, while of course these ultra-orthodox Jewish people also "make a living" promoting De Beers' Diamond Currency always price fixed at more than a barrel of oil as they not only help fund projects including real estate speculation and gambling, so very much against the Jewish religion, but are "afforded" ownership interests in deals without having to put up a penny.

President Bush just today, although it may have occurred yesterday, called for oil producing countries, specifically in the Middle East, which remember does not include the State of Israel, to increase their output of oil production.

Who other than a non-capitalist country talking out of both sides of its mouth, in telling another country not only what to produce but what price US Americans are willing to pay, is simply promoting the truth that the United States of America is not in the least bit supportive of the "free enterprise system".

Now of course, anyone with the least command of any language could argue that all President Bush was doing was "suggesting" that our oil tyrants listen very carefully otherwise the US will support that much more our dictators' second-in-command, no different to when a US politician in talking about the US being a democracy whereby the "majority rule", has to spend US$200 on each vote in order to have a chance of being elected President of the United States of America.

And of course, I didn't figure out just today that those benefitting the most from wars only wish to debate those who agree with them.

As I point it out you remember forwarding to me the "back and forth" between yourself and this Mindy lady, beginning with her one sentence,

"I was thinking of cancelling tonight cause I am broke and don't want to make you pay for me."

So who paid for that US$5.55 donation; you or possibly that friend she "made plans to go to lunch with"?

To repeat Mindy's entire email of January 13th:

Hey Adam :)

Thank YOU for yesterday. It is so refreshing to meet someone who likes to do and talk about the same things I do. You have inspired me to really put in an effort to learn about our history so that I can one day hold a better conversation with you :p. And for the sake of humanity of course. Always great to find fellow thinking weed smokers too. I am not sure how you are feeling but wanted to let you know that as of right now I feel as though I see you as more of a friend. I may be kicking myself in the ass later for saying that, have been known to do it in the past. But I just wanted to let you know how I was feeling.

I made plans to go to lunch with friend and have those dinner plans as well. I was thinking of cancelling tonight cause I am broke and don't want to make you pay for me. I am hoping to get a job next week though and would love to come down and listen to music at the Belly Up with you in the near future, or whatever else there is to do. Or if you get sick of San Diego you are more than welcome to come visit me up here anytime.

All things aside, I had a really good time with you yesterday and hopefully we can hang out again.

Mindy :)

p.s.: you are awesome :)

Did the two of you ever get around to analyzing in depth the expression, "You are what you eat and the company you keep including when you have sex"?

Who paid for the weed and don't tell me that you took it out of THE IT's freezer surrounded by frozen ants?

You will soon see that I won't be repeating much to you or anyone else going forward and if I do so don't hesitate to let everyone on my email list know beginning with Dr. John K. Pollard Jr.

And of course if I am dead, my legacy will be all that I have said and done which of course means only something to those I care about, beginning with God.

And of course I can prove everything I say beyond a shadow of a doubt, but then again when dealing with brain dead people raised in a "money me" culture, you would agree proving anything apart from the imperative need to redistribute the wealth that has been stolen by the lazy, good-for-nothing filthy rich, even if we leave it to a monkey suffering from "alzheimer's" [sic] as well as dying of aids, to make the decision, is certainly better, in my humble but seasoned opinion, than someone like you or Mindy or worse yet Dr. John K. Pollard Jr. who at least isn't as "good as the last person he spoke with" given how Dr. JKP has stopped talking.

I have a very simple goal in this lifetime which is to do nothing more than to "play the game" and reap the rewards from the most vengeful God who most of all does not take kindly to those well-informed and who think that they can go "in and out" like the tide, one moment all "moral and ethical" and the next void of humanity.

Yes, the fact that I am alive having never, not once, ignored a wrongful act, no matter how small, smart enough to have remembered everything including those instances where I could have handled matters better were it not for the fact that I haven't forgotten for one moment from where I come, i.e. that God is the only power worth talking about, should have anyone with the smallest of pee brains thinking that maybe there is a very good chance given all the knowledge I have, not to mention my prescient timing, that I am "spot on" right about God, and if not, that as the overwhelming majority of people think God does not exist but when in despair are so very quick to turn to "God", then each one of us is in the hands of each other which isn't really a pleasant thought?

The photo today on Drudge report showing President Bush holding a long sword similar, if not the identical one used by members of the House of Saud-Al Quaida to cut off the heads of American service people, should also have you remembering President Franklin D. Roosevelt meeting Ibn Saud on board the USS Quincy back on February 14th, 1945 that served as the clearest signal that the Nazi victors of World Oil War II were not content to have dispensed with only 6 million of us Jewish people.

Perhaps, you should think that instead of replying thinking it smart to point out my highly successful "carrot and stick" approach given how it is common knowledge that co-opted-corrupt human beings view "graciousness as weakness", to go back to my suggestion that you forward, to start with, this email as well as the previous one I sent you, to every person you have met on dating websites and then to proceed post haste in encouraging them to also forward my emails to all those they have met on dating websites, of course apart from you, until such time as one or more of you think it smart to contact both my mom and dad and to ask my dad whether he thinks my mother's primary job was "raising" prostitutes for the Mossad?

Ps – The fact that you have Chrohns disease that allows you to easily obtain a prescription for pot should have you much more aware of why it is that medical doctors in the United States make so much money, certainly more than 95% of the population and yet the health of 95% of Americans is worse than our British counterparts.

If you are unwilling to be first "straight with yourself" you really should be intellectually honest and stop talking.

There is good reason why the ants are winning.

What do you think of the following blurb for the seminar? Can you make any edits that you feel would motivate you to attend?

Stop looking for a quick fix! Knowledge affords predictability which will allow you to adapt to any market in any situation; even in a complete collapse. You will learn first and foremost about how we got to this point of financial predicament and more importantly how to build a new beginning. Learn about oil, gold, platinum, and other valuable natural resources as well as the mechanisms that have been used to steal them from the public. You will learn about a little known diamond monopolist that has provided unregulated currency to those that have chosen to leverage the blood, sweat, and tears of the hard working that have been merely poorly informed.

We believe in empowerment; we will provide you with the tools necessary to become financially independent in a way that also provides you with the psychological satisfaction that comes from knowing that you are doing the right thing.

MONEY BACK GUARENTEE – No questions asked money back guarantee! Names of refunds will be posted on just3ants.com.

Thanks!

Talk with you soon,
Adam
