Wow. Both Marie and I are impressed. It looks like a great hangout!

I believe I did get a copy of the monthly figures. Please tell me how you computed the "percentage of turnover" calculation; it seems higher than I expected.

We wish you and your family very well not only this Holiday season.

Best regards,

Gary + Marie

Ps - I am copying Peggy Anderson who lives in Wiveliscombe, Somerset about an hours drive inland from Minehead; perhaps Peggy, who was my world traveling mother's most trusted and so very brilliant personal Irish secretary for many years back in South Africa, can make copies of the photos and walk them over to my mother's mini estate, 7 Hartswell Lane, Wiveliscombe, TA42E.

Not to mention Robert Anderson, Peggy's husband, very possibly in the top 3 geniuses the world has ever been blessed with, and remember Einstein was one of them, should be extended an invitation to join you for a lager or two, and feel free to charge such well deserved hospitality to my account.

To mention little of each time I visited with my mother who decided to settle in Wiveliscombe only because the Andersons were already there, how much I would look forward to sitting quietly with Robert in the rectangular shaped sun house attached to the garage as we sipped a cup of tea talking about everything under the sun but never once distracted by rather intense philosophical thoughts going back to ancient times to not notice and comment on each and every action or inaction of every bird, no matter how tiny that stopped by to say "hello" and guide us back without missing a heartbeat to how easy it would be to solve the problems of the world should God bless us once again with someone with as Robert would say, "heightened sensitivity".

My mother, Zena along with my eldest brother Neil who also has homes in Wiveliscombe as well as another of our English friends visited Seacrest/Waterfront in late December 2001 right after I purchased it from the Costers. Zena, who didn't exactly get off a boat just yesterday and has owned homes all over the world was rather impressed with what she saw and felt most of all, besides for being in the most perfect location imaginable, right on the water's edge and adjacent to the most enchanted and beautiful forest leading to Burgundy Chapel, this 3 bedroom house with a café attached, was in "nick condition".

Not to mention this "Gentleman" English friend owns the magnificent home at the entrance to Dunster Castle, just down the road from Minehead, and whose beams in the ceiling of the upstairs master bedroom come from the remains of the Spanish Amanda sunk in 1588.

Of course anything, apart from humans living right on the water requires constant upkeep, especially heavily salt saturated oceans.

Wouldn't it be something if we didn't have to brush our teeth which at least allows us some time during the day not to listen, let alone think about all those suffering so very horribly only because those of us so very fortunate choose very carefully not to care about the truth behind the rich getting richer trickling down the costs of getting rich on to the backs of the poor who are not stupid, only misinformed by the rich who I am proving beyond a shadow of a doubt, all know better and who justify their "ostrich behavior" on the grounds that "there is nothing I can do about all the shitheads out there", all the while able to make so very thoughtful comments which they would prefer to keep to themselves but for "sum" [sic] reason can't help themselves, "People who have money take advantage and those that don't get taken advantage of" before then concluding, "Whatever, I do not care!"

Ps – Beginning tomorrow all my communications apart from the occasional private communications where email may still be more appropriate, will be posted on my blog on www.just3ants.com, which from time to time you might want to check out.
