Subject: OUTING - RE: Joey - we were just talking about you..

Speaking for Marie as well – Marie getting her hair done for tonight's outing – yesterday was the best day of our lives; and of course life gets not only easier but better with each passing moment as we realize that there is no time to be wasted in getting out the truth of why the most corrupt people in the world laugh all the way to the bank and there is no reason in the world why that has to continue.

But in the meantime those of us with truth on our side can afford to be ever so very patient but at the same time most vigilant.

Sticks and stones breaks bones but words kill as well!

I am assuming you have no problem with my draft follow up communiqué to the President that I will be making just a few slight modifications before sending it out possibly in less than half an hour as I wait for a "green light" from more of my

"enlightened" friends who have understood like me from the youngest of age that there is a much powerful force out there that prevents this world made up of increasingly emotionless human beings from blowing up, but such an omnipotent force is not in the least bit wimpish or trusting of the human spirit so void of spirituality to be all "lovey dovey" given how us humans have failed so miserably to stand tall against the bullies who profit from war/controversy, and is therefore most vengeful especially towards those who "know better" and choose because it suits them to "turn the other cheek".

You will have noticed in our walk yesterday that you didn't find yourself on solid ground when it came to debating me on the subject of religion, let alone the scripture; bearing in mind that the Christian Bible includes the Old Testament that talks quite openly to the savagery of humankind, the oxymoron of all time, towards the rest of the animal kingdom; leaving it up to each one of us, is our omnipotent power, not a group of bought and paid for clerics, to figure it all out including all the "deception" beginning with it being somehow okay to make "animal sacrifices".

Once someone decides to go down the "religious path" with me, I make it my business-personal to "take no prisoners".

Bear in mind that while I know for a fact that I am not God I am smart enough because I "know" versus "believe" in God that first and foremost one must be smart when "waging war" beginning by winning over one's enemies not with a bunch of mumbo-jumbo religious talk pulled out of the Bible that makes perfect sense of all nonsense when it was written as well as what is happening today, but rather with logic, starting with explaining to captured soldiers the economics of war to those who manufacture for example mines.

If you have the truth on your side, beginning with the fact that the US government for more than a century now have enslaved the peoples of the world without the biggest guns, allowing US Americans more so than any others peoples to benefit financially and therefore while you can pity US Americans and why not have us being afforded free of charge all the psychologists and psychiatrists we think are necessary, the bottom line is that the first thing we have to do, if again we want to be intellectually honest which helps preserve our mindfulness; i.e. sanity, is to make amends to those we have harmed, period.

So why not since our military has been the world's most used and abused greatest oppressor the past 100 years, pay our service people as well our vets whatever they think they deserve and let them also figure out how best US Americans in so much denial – just look at the back and forth with my close colleague Devin Standard as he makes one buck after the next out of the nonsense business plans he is building – should be paying for our sins against humanity.

Notice how quickly you first want to "shut down" when realizing that it is going to come out of your hide before than thinking that maybe we address this rather important issue sooner rather than later and why not before the next President of the United States comes in to office and I might decide not to help such a retard as I am still prepared to do for Mr. Bush the most intellectually honest and of course smartest President this so very corrupt nation has had I would guess since its very beginning, which of course doesn't say very much given how this disgusting country was started on such an evil footing when trying to enslave and then murdering the best of the indigenous peoples before enslaving those weak who survived.

Not to mention again how by creating civil wars throughout the world including my home country of South Africa, the so heavily corrupt 3 Branches of the US Government forced the smartest and brightest of us, assuming we wanted to live, to immigrate to the US.

You should by now understand perfectly well why it was that not only did Princeton University Freshmen in 1939 vote Hitler the greatest living human being, and Einstein, second, but some years before, I think it was in 1934, Einstein himself wrote as his return address, "Concentration Camp, Princeton".

Look at the other option which is to ignore the truths that I am spreading at Light-G-d-Speed around the world to places like the awesome Peoples Republic of Communist China and never to forget Israelis who like the Jews of the Orient set the scholastic levels wherever they travel and of course who get recruited by the Mossad, the world's number one intelligence institute with the most brutally effective assassination's unit which they don't keep a secret, and then have these anything but wimpish people decide that US Americans deserve each other as they encircle us without even having to place a blockade simply by allowing our currency to reach its true level of total worthlessness.

Remember, the President you once thought so very smart, Mr. Bill "Rhodes-DeBeers Scholar-lawyer" Clinton, I daresay the dumbest and most corrupt of them all, said in the speech he gave at Caltech University on January 21st, 2000 with a full year left in office, that the US is ripe for a Bosnian style ethnic cleansing civil war that George W. Bush managed to hold off now for almost another 8 years.

You don't have to be "good" simply "smart" to know that "luck" has now run out!

Now out the door to get my grooming.

Love,

Gary

Ps – Don't forget to have that good-for-nothing pompous, Trust-Hush-Fund, selfish bastard, so very talkative jerk of a nephew of yours attending Columbia University to present himself to me and the world including that total moron Professor Jeffrey Sachs of Columbia University, the sooner the better.

While you still may not agree that the more we know about each other the less likely it is that we will go to war with one another, you will no doubt agree that those now waging war simply to prop up the lifestyles of the lazy filthy rich should be properly informed about each and every trust-hush-kid who has chosen to not only grab the money but use such ill-gotten gains to mislead our service people from learning about the truth.

Moreover, you will most certainly agree that only God him-herself, should be the one to decide that one child is more special than the rest, and therefore those who support children of wealthy parents inheriting all their wealth that we all know has been mostly stolen, goes against all of God's teachings as well as the concept, "we are all God's children" as well as "Each citizen should get equal protection under the law" when we know perfectly well that not only can rich people buy all the "law protection" they can afford, they do!!

Rather difficult when you have all the corrupt clergy in cahoots with all the corrupt politicians to make much if any distinction between what you think you heard and read in the scripture versus what these nonsense talkers have indoctrinated you with.
