I am forwarding this [below] to you and ask you so now what. You have made these statements so what would you want to happen. Jeff never told me anything about this and You never mentioned this to me. If you want to solve issues you first creat some support systems around you . You however have chosen to push everyone away who ever tried , from the goodness within them to help you with no alterior motives- from my point of view you have hurt a lot of people for no good reason. This is something that I will only express because you have chosen the path of hatred rather than understanding.

Mike,

I have received the emails from Adam as I am sure you are aware. I would not dismiss what he is saying as fabricated or that he is pissed at the world. And this has nothing to do with attacking Mom.

Here is what is. I know what Ed did to me as a young teen and I am telling you to believe what Adam is telling you. After two plus years of counselling in the early 1990s it all came to a head for me.

Think about this. Why would Ed not respond to Adam if he really did nothing. If someone accuses me of something, I am not going to let someone else try to defend me. That is exactly what mom is doing and has done since she married him. Make excuses for him, apologize for him and basically try to dismiss his behavior.

I don't know what caused Adam to start dealing with this now, at this point in his life, but I know from experience that it is usually something traumatic that will bring up the hidden past. It was for me anyway.

The best thing you can do at this point, in my opinion, is to help him get counselling so he doesn't have to feel that he is the victim and "poor me" but to learn to deal with this and put it in its proper place in his life. I am sure there are many victim of abuse counselling facilities in california and they do not charge for their services.

Why did I not tell you about this years ago? When would have been the right time or place. I did start to tell you about 16 years ago when I told you that I had two years of my life that I cannot remember. You just sort of blew it off as "I can't remember everything either" Through counselling I found out what happened during that missing time.

Do with this email as you will. If you want to talk about it more, I will be happy to discuss it with you either by phone or email.

I would not trust Ed alone with any child at any point. Mom will never accept the fact the he is a Pedophile because she is not willing to give him up rather than giving us up. Why do you think that I never wanted him around the kids, period?

I love you, my brother. Help your son to deal with this situation. Do not protect Mom, she never did us.

Jeff
