what chat rooms do you go to?

7:16 PM

Personally, I dont go to hardly any, but friends of mine do. How did you get on my email list? What did you think of the heavily broadcasted email I just sent out?

never saw it...so you're a spammer, eh?

7:20 PM

Actually, it is in the process of being sent out. No, I am not a spammer. As a general rule most people give me their email addresses because they want something for nothing out of me, isnt that your experience? Also I get email addresses from other people who feel the same way about people who give them their email addresses. Were you to go thru your email address list would you find any who fit into this category?
