Subject: UNDERSTAND - Part X - CLEAR, SHORT sentence - To Be

Huh, what didn't you understand?

Currently, I am working on t-shirt designs which I will be including in my forthcoming email to Hylton Strous of South African Clothing Industries [SACI], a rather large public South African clothing corporation that my step-father, not exactly mad

And if you are still not exhausted after reading about those lively people meet . . .

FORMER South African modeling expert Zena Zulman collects hats. Her husband, Alan, has grown a pigtail. Both indulgences are the delightfully colourful predilections of an always elegantly dressed South African dad who, as a result, has been affectionately dubbed by friends and colleagues in the rag trade as "the odd couple."

"So what if they call us the odd couple?" laughs Zena. "I'm having the time of my life. And I know that Alan is, too."

The attractive, brown-eyed, honey-blond who is visiting Durban from England, contends that there is something of the squarer in practically every woman. Some of us collect dolls, she says. Others collect jewellery or china figurines while many more simply accumulate recipes and knitting patterns.

"I'm mad about hats. And I'm so glad my strict Jewish religious observance make it necessary for me to wear some sort of headcovering on every social and outdoor occasion. It gives me a wonderful excuse to indulge my mania."

In her home in Somerset, Zena has something like 80 or 90 headcoverings in widely varying shapes, sizes, colours and materials. These have been collected from all parts of the world.

THE MAD HATTERS

Zena and Alan Zulman... tugging his pigtail is one way of getting attention!

Some of the most exciting have been acquired over the last year, which for her has had "the divine experience of a second honeymoon."

"Don't I know it!" wails South African clothing tycoon husband, Alan. "She's got more hats than Joan Collins. I've just finished making a new cupboard in which to store them all."

ZENA is the former Zena Gevisser, well-known throughout Southern Africa as the initiator of professional training schools for models in this area.

Like most big enterprises, Zena's schools had a small beginning. They started in 1967 with a simple course of lectures to help adult women in Durban overcome shyness. The response was so enthusiastic that she was soon encouraged to expand the course to include good housekeeping, fashion, beauty and attractive deportment.

The school in Durban appeared to fill a very definite need among women of all ages and it wasn't long before she was prevailed upon to open similar establishments in Pietermaritzburg, Johannesburg, Cape Town, Windhoek and Salisbury (now Harare). There was even one in Ekurhuleni in the old Congo! Zena had a regular slot in a women's tabloid series and she also wrote a column on beauty in an Afrikaans newspaper.

For the next 25 years or so thousands of students were trained by Zena. Some of them became top South African models and beauty queens. Among the latter was Shirley Cooleen - now Jimmy Ray - who won the Miss World Contest in 1968. Another signal success was Cecile Hamman, the first international model who, through Zena's agency, had the privilege of working for Royal couturier, Norman Hartnell, and various other top fashion houses in Europe.

"But all that is in the past," Zena says. "I enjoyed those days and they're good to look back on. But today is what counts."

She bubbles vivaciously. "Do you know what I've discovered in the last year or so? It's that life doesn't begin at 40, as they say, but at 60! I'm nearly that age and I'm having an absolute ball!"

For the last two years she and Alan have been touring the world on what they happily describe as "an extended honeymoon." They were married in a romantic ceremony on the top of Mount Zion in Israel in May, 1994. It is a second marriage for both of them and their joy and happiness in one another is living proof that love and marriage can be a good, if not better, second time around.

ALAN is a retired industrialist, co-founder of a giant nation corporation now known as South African Clothing Industries.

He took early retirement because 15 years of building up the business was not without stress, which began to be inurious to his health.

"I decided I didn't want to be the richest man in the cemetery. I wanted to live and do all the things I've always dreamed of doing - tour the world, to new places, meet new people. I can say you this last year has been just magic."

To mark his "liberation" from a market place, Alan gave his pigtail 11 days gone by when Chinese men were into bondage they cut off their pigtail.

Well, I've done the reverse. I'm liberal so I've grown a pigtail which, he adds with a rough laugh, "has been much admired by a good many ladies!"

"Mind you, there might be some who find my mania for hats and Alan's pigtail really odd; and the fact that we do odd jobs hands just for the sheer joy of it together, but who cares? We're having the time of our lives and we both intend to live it up until we die."

Living it up means traveling in 15 high summer years to faraway plac with exotic names on exciting, but in that provide chances to widen their horizons and increase their knowledge of the world and its peoples. Living it means going out to meet life in all its moods, phases and happenings; discovering the wonder and fascination of it all.

And of course, whenever she goes means, even now and then, a new hat.

But Alan doesn't mind. "What I lack," he says, "is the ablest of most beautiful hat-maker face in the world." And does hat collecting excite him, too?

He roars with laughter. "I've a collection. But I'm no way in Zena league. My dear, don't you think that mad hatter in the family is quite enough?"

Alan Zulman founded when he was just 15 years of age and forced to leave high school and support his mother and sister following the untimely death of his father.

What exactly did you not understand about American Charles Engelhard's role in the US Government giving the South African Apartheid Regime, aka The 3rd Reich's Southern Division a "free pass" for some 45 odd years and when it ended Black South African President Nelson Mandela who paid homage to the American-British "judicial" system in his 11,700 word, "I am Prepared to Die" speech from the dock of the South African Supreme Court, Pretoria on April 20th, 1964 although most people who can read would agree it sounded like a slave wage earner asking for a slave wage increase that had most but not all of them distracted to the point that thought Mandela should have titled his so nauseating speech, "I am NOT Prepared to Die", decided very carefully to go along with the CIA "directive" that he also keep "UNDER LOCK AND KEY" the CD ROM containing details of American intelligence; i.e. CIA and British intelligence spearheading the most macabre biological weapons programme in conjunction with the South African Defense/Force first targeting Black South Africans, presumably on the side of Mandela and Co.; not to mention exactly where are those very same CIA assassins today.

Thank you for not only increasing the circle of those dependent upon my insight and analysis of the important events of the day but at least equal in importance, acknowledging receipt of the ingenious Israeli Military Intelligence report along with the FBI's unofficial transcript of a phone conversation vetting the FBI, as well as Mossad and Israeli Military Intelligence, considering this "terrorist plot" both imminent and threatening, not only in my humble but seasoned opinion, to the health and security of the peoples of the United States, but again, at least equal in importance to the capital and financial markets, all one big House of Saud cards, which will do nothing short, again in my opinion, of adding very significantly to your culpability, if not shared immediately with your other clients, apart from De Beers and Co.

Now while you and the rest of you De Beers' "hired guns" stand by for my next broadcast, get down right this instant on all fours and give me 4200 pushups followed by 3600 sit-ups and then be quiet.
