Subject: "$ hit list" [sic] - RE: WARNING NOTICE from AT&T Internet Services Security Center

I am currently on the line with AT&T/SBC global representatives who appear to be quite bewildered by your so threatening email; moreover letting me know that such an email is "extraordinarily rare".

Do not DARE cut off my internet service for a moment.

This is not the first time I have received such a threatening tortuously interfering email from you folks.

Every person who receives an email from me is known to me and if not I remove them from my email list and add them to the "$ hit list" [sic] unless they can give me an otherwise good reason.

Those unhappy with the fact that when giving me their email address, simply wanting something for free out of me and subsequently not happy with me exposing their diabolical hypocrisy, not to mention selfishness, are now seeking assistance from AT&T and have AT&T do their "dirty work".

Why on earth unless you are being paid extraordinarily well and of course have deep pocket insurance liability coverage would you have a bunch of nincompoops use you to "shoot poison tipped arrows" that I can assure will come back with a "vengeance".

The thought comes to mind that when people first complain about one or more persons complaining about being spammed that they provide not only a current balance sheet no more than 30 days but a copy of their personal liability insurance coverage that should only be a AAA AM Best rating insurance carrier that in my humble but seasoned opinion there is not one out there close to as "credible" as me; not to mention I will be able to prove in any court of law that were the very best of the best run insurance carriers to properly provision for all their exposures they would not only be bankrupt but filing immediately not for a Chapter 11 court approved restructuring plan but a Chapter 7 "quick sale" liquidation.

Please review why it is that Mr. Ron Bellows a very senior risk managememet specialist for AIG [American International Group] would say, "I am impressed".

this is what happens when u get me going with such amazing stuff. Here is an updated draft of the summary

Let me know if you don't find on my one website www.just3ants.com a clear as a whistle explanation of, "What goes around comes around with a vengeance".

Why would AT&T be so stupid as to fall for such a "slight of hand" bearing in mind AGAIN, those complaining are all known to me and who know perfectly well that they are "valid people" most worried that people more enlightened than them would respond positively to me exposing their hypocrisy as AGAIN such good-for-nothing trouble makers try to shut me down.

Understand these are only acts of desperation of total and complete morons running out of options, knowing that there is no way possibly apart from Armageddon to prevent the exponentially increasing footprint I have on the internet hoping against all hope to simply slow me down so that they can make more of a nest egg for themselves; not to mention such cowardly bastards' nest eggs are all invariably courtesy of corrupt big government handouts to again the fitly lazy rich expert only at trickling down the cost of getting rich on to the backs of the poor who are simply misinformed not in the least bit stupid.

The stupidity as the masses around are now figuring out thanks in no small measure to my presence on the Internet is mostly found in the fact that the lazy, the most emotionally unstable who mostly sit behind desks each and every day focused mainly on inciting the masses to violence, again check out time and again the "$ hit list" [sic] on just3ants.com, thought they would get away.

Time is of the essence!

Thank you for your consideration.

Gary S. Gevisser

Ps - When in the history of time would you have preferred to be alive, apart from right now!!

Ps I - Please let me know what you think of my last heavily broadcasted communiqué by clicking HERE; and of course feel free to email Deputy District Attorney Curt Alfrey asking this moron what he thinks and not forgetting to either carbon or blind copy me.
