Adam,

I am assuming this FBI agent,

Federal Bureau of Investigation

CURRAN THOMERSON
Special Agent

San Diego Field Office
9797 Aero Dr.
San Diego, CA 92123

(858) 565-1255

760-602-3445

Adam,

PLEASE CALL

most likely around 38 years of age, a graduate of a local college, and who left his card on your front door yesterday with the handwritten note, "Adam, PLEASE CALL", has not returned your call, although you could already be in "Protective Custody" under the FBI's Witness Protection Program, possibly even a neighbor of now imprisoned William Lerach of The Firm, The Cow's employer?

Not to mention when he and his colleagues are "done with you" could you have them visit with me so that I can explain in more detail the sequence of events that currently has The Cow using The IT's email account to continue shooting his "poison tipped arrows" which of course both of The IT's "tTOo" [sic] children saw nothing wrong in not only adding to their arsenal so that they would never really have to work for a living but to fine tune given how quite rightly they consider themselves while both very dumb, again relative to their mother and me, to be infinitely smarter than The IT, their Sperm Donor.

To mention in passing don't you find it quite the "coincidence" that Dr. Laura has been ever so recently using the expression, "Sperm Donor"?

Wouldn't you agree that Rob Rodriguez, the Discussion Forums Administrator for Military.com must also be wondering what the FBI who is tasked with INVESTIGATING crimes, hence their name Federal Bureau of INVESTIGATION would be bothering with you, someone who suffers horribly from Crohn's Disease, is unemployed despite the most terrific computer skills, and to top it off you are both slender and many women think you are both cute and good looking.

Could Mr. Thomerson simply be interested in dating you while at the same time helping bring very PUBLIC INTERNATIONAL ATTENTION to our very just social cause?

Do you think Mr. Thomerson would need to be reminded of how I was the first person in the world to bring PUBLIC INTERNATIONAL ATTENTION to the fact that the very top FBI counterintelligence agent, Robert Hannsen who not only played a pivotal role in the idiot Jewish US Navy Officer Jonathan Pollard getting "nailed to the cross" as you now think of US Navy Officers inside the Swastika shaped Navy building on Coronado Island now giving the "Hail Hitler" salute, but equally important got busted one month after President George W. Bush took the Oath of Office the first time on, I believe, January 21st, 2001, is only alive today because Hannsen was smart enough to receive as part payment from the Soviet "EVIL EMPIRE" nothing other than Diamond Currency?

Could Mr. Thomerson have by now at least seen wisdom in the Jerusalem Post publishing this first of 4 articles of mine on February 1st, 2001

Heads up, you lose. Tails we all lose

Gary S. Gevisser Del Mar California (1 February 2001)

Dear Jonathan Pollard;

The pardon of Marc Rich eliminated not only an opportunity of justice being served but it would have allowed the public to view the role that oil brokers play in furthering terrorism.

This debacle also makes a mockery of your fight for true justice. Although you have now shown remorse, into your 16th year for providing Israel with a "heads up", your biggest mistake was that you should have charged more, stashed it away in Switzerland, and you would have got your comeuppance a little sooner. Where was your Yiddisha kop?

Your pal, Israel's premier Barak, became so mesmerized by the glitter of "Richy Rich" that he failed to grasp that Rich's under-the-table deals paved the way for Israel enemies to hit soft targets. It is ironic that while your actions strengthened Israel's security, Rich's brokerage operation softened the will of Israelis resulting in the embrace of spiked peace initiatives. Surely you are also wondering if Mr. Barak's source of newfound wisdom comes from reading the funnies having forgotten the History of the Jews.

Barak brings shame to Jewish people who grew up believing that when push comes to shove our leaders would know better than to sell their souls in return for a good shmooze albeit with a womanizer supposedly with a good head, wouldn't you agree? None of us should be all that surprised by Clinton's call. His actions were simply in character but don't try arguing that point to our senators Feinstein and Boxer.

The tail this pardon leaves may yet come back to bite us all. In prison you are safe from terrorist actions. Here in Del Mar surfing conditions have been pretty good lately, but who knows what sharks may appear as the oceans warm up.

Hang tight. Odds are help may yet come knocking on your door but don't count on the Democrats.

Gary S. Gevisser
Del Mar, California

Then a month later on March 3rd, the Editor of JP published my follow up; bearing in mind that the idiot American-Israeli spy Jonathan Pollard is not the same person as equally idiotic Roman Catholic, 1/8th Indian, 7/8th moron Lily White Wheaty Eating Dr. John K. Pollard Jr. kind enough to help us now nail "Jew hating Jew" Alan Dershowitz "to the cross".

It is more than Pollard who got stuffed.

Gary S. Gevisser (3 Mar 2001)

Jewish leaders coveted Marc Rich at the expense of one who may have delivered the Right Stuff.

Perhaps, it is simply a coincidence that Jonathan Pollard was locked away at the same time FBI agent Hanssen was mastering U.S. counterintelligence on behalf of the Soviets. If you were Mr. Hanssen or Mr. Ames of the CIA what would you do to deflect attention? Wouldn't it make sense to position Jonathan Pollard as the evil incarnate, an eternal threat to U.S. strategic interests? Not surprisingly, those charged with counterintelligence have somehow missed every opportunity to neutralize the impact of Pollard's 15-year-old intelligence secrets. With all the finger pointing that went on in the mid 1980s, even a former CIA head like former President Bush, may not have been given all the intelligence he deserved.

Coincidence or not, by our Jewish leaders supporting the pardon of Marc Rich negating a once in a lifetime opportunity for the public to view the role that middlemen play in corrupting the leaders of most oil- producing nations to mention little of the terrorism these oil dollars father, the person made of the Right Stuff remains stuffed.

Try keeping me informed of your whereabouts every hour or so even if only telepathic; bearing in mind I continued early this morning to pick up fragments of my cell phone that disintegrated on my bike ride yesterday following lunch, not able though to have located either "the hand to ward off the evil eye" trinket sent in the mail to me on July 24th, 2001 by my very "money-power" mother along with the rather interesting note written on King David Hotel Jerusalem stationary or for that matter my tan wallet that I have owned since 1982, that I recall picking up after I lifted the Ducati ST4S off its side.

Not to mention the wallet contained all my previous California drivers licenses all the way back to July 1982, some 4 months after De Beers master spy Roger W. Robinson, aka "Our man Roger", joined the National Security Council that was housed in the "basement" of the White House.

Dershowitz is only fooling himself at this time and of course digging that much more of his own hell in "spotlighting" the virulent anti-Semitism of former President Carter who while once all mighty powerful and of course on the payroll of De Beers who remember have owned the world's drilling industry from the turn of the last and hence each and every member of OPEC, is a "nobody" today, relatively speaking of course, when say even compared to you.

Again, you will note that Dr. John K. Pollard Jr. has "offered up" more email addresses.

In due course I will be following up with your "friend" Black African American Paul Robinson who thought that just because you are a Lilly White Wheaty Eater you would be inferior, not only physically but intellectually to someone such as himself and Scottish Black African American Devin Standard; and of course all us Lily White Wheaty Eaters including Dr. John K. Pollard Jr. and the intellectual midget Dershowitz are grossly inferior "on average" to the average Black person throughout the world and why Lily Whites, the most inbred, and who rely on the almighty gun while promoting the Almighty Dollar, make it their business-personal to denigrate those Lily Whites fear the most who we know again "on average" we would never be able to compete against on a level playing field.

"Averages" are not in the least bit "misleading" but alone they say very little.

What is only of importance since I consider there to be few if any bright people out there apart from me, my wife, Sebastian Capella and of course a very significant number of Israeli Military Intelligence as well as Mossad personnel, is the fact that China, a population of going on 1.5 billion has no religion and God/G-d also knows this most non-aggressive, so wonderfully peaceful art cultured peoples who care about their poor as well as minorities and whose patience with the west is not infinite, for good reason set the scholastic levels wherever they go.

Remember, only G-d can bring about "world peace", all I seek in the very limited time I have remaining is to give it my all in helping level the playing field; and talking about "seeking fairness" have you thought about dying your black hair blond and/or spiking it and spending a few hours a day panhandling?

Or do you think the spiking would be going a bit overboard?

There is this one intersection on the north exit of Via De Valle. If you are there around 1pm I would pick you up on Marie's red scooter and take you to lunch at Moseys in Luecadia that is owned by an Israeli; and perhaps we could visit with your t-shirt manufacturer friend who has a t-shirt screen printing business next door and get a few t-shirts made up at the same time we get just3ants.com business cards printed up?

I think I must now cancel my credit card that was in my wallet.

Cheers.

Ex-President For Sale, by Alan M. Dershowitz

Jimmy Carter is making more money selling integrity than peanuts. I have known Jimmy Carter for more than 30 years. I first met him in the spring of 1976 when, as a relatively unknown candidate for president, he sent me a handwritten letter asking for my help in his campaign on issues of crime and justice.

I had just published an article in The New York Times Magazine on sentencing reform, and he expressed interest in my ideas and asked me to come up with additional ones for his campaign.

Shortly thereafter, my former student Stuart Eisenstadt, brought Carter to Harvard to meet with some faculty members, me among them. I immediately liked Jimmy Carter and saw him as a man of integrity and principle. I signed on to his campaign and worked very hard for his election.

When Newsweek magazine asked his campaign for the names of people on whom Carter relied for advice, my name was among those given out. I continued to work for Carter over the years, most recently I met him in Jerusalem a year ago, and we briefly discussed the Middle East.

Though I disagreed with some of his points, I continued to believe that he was making them out of a deep commitment to principle and to human rights.

Recent disclosures of Carter's extensive financial connections to Arab oil money, particularly from Saudi Arabia, had deeply shaken my belief in his integrity. When I was first told that he received a monetary reward in the name of Sheik Zayed bin Sultan Al Nahayan, and kept the money, even after Harvard returned money from the same source because of its anti-Semitic history, I simply did not believe it.

How could a man of such apparent integrity enrich himself with dirty money from so dirty a source?

And let there be no mistake about how dirty the Zayed Foundation is. I know because I was involved, in a small way, in helping to persuade Harvard University to return more than $2 million that the ...Divinity School received from this source.

Initially I was reluctant to put pressure on Harvard to turn back money for the Divinity School , but then a student at the Divinity School --Rachael Lea Fish -- showed me the facts.

They were staggering. I was amazed that in the 21st century there were still foundations that espoused these views. The Zayed Centre for Coordination and Follow-up - a think-tank funded by the Sheik and run by his son - hosted speakers who called Jews "the enemies of all nations," attributed the assassination of John Kennedy to Israel and the Mossad and the 9/11 attacks to the United States ' own military, and stated that the Holocaust was a "fable." (They also hosted a speech by Jimmy Carter.) To its credit, Harvard turned the money back. To his discredit, Carter did not.

Jimmy Carter was, of course, aware of Harvard's decision, since it was highly publicized. Yet he kept the money. Indeed, this is what he said in accepting the funds: "This award has special significance for me because it is named for my personal friend, Sheik Zayed bin Sultan al-Nahyan."

Carter's personal friend, it turns out, was an unredeemable anti-Semite and all-around bigot.

In reading Carter's statements, I was reminded of the bad old Harvard of the 1930s, which continued to honor Nazi academics after the anti-Semitic policies of Hitler's government became clear. Harvard of the 1930s was complicit in evil. I sadly concluded that Jimmy Carter of the 21st century has become complicit in evil. The extent of Carter's financial support from, and even dependence on, dirty money is still not fully known.

What we do know is deeply troubling. Carter and his

Center have accepted millions of dollars from suspect sources, beginning with the bail-out of the Carter family peanut business in the late 1970s by BCCI, a now-defunct and virulently anti-Israeli bank indirectly controlled by the Saudi Royal family, and among whose principal investors is Carter's friend, Sheik Zayed. Agha Hasan Abedi, the founder of the bank, gave Carter "$500,000 to help the former president establish his center...[and] more than $10 million to Mr. Carter's different projects."

Carter gladly accepted the money, though Abedi had called his bank-ostensibly the source of his funding-"the best way to fight the evil influence of the Zionists."

BCC isn't the only source: Saudi King Fahd contributed millions to the Carter Center- "in 1993 alone...$7.6 million" as have other members of the Saudi Royal Family. Carter also received a million dollar pledge from the Saudi-based bin Laden family, as well as a personal $500,000 environmental award named for Sheik Zayed, and paid for by the Prime Minister of the United Arab Emirates .

It's worth noting that, despite the influx of Saudi money funding the Carter Center, and despite the Saudi Arabian government's myriad human rights abuses, the Carter Center's Human Rights program has no activity whatever in Saudi Arabia .

The Saudis have apparently bought his silence for a steep price.

The bought quality of the Center's activities becomes even more clear, however, when reviewing the Center's human rights activities in other countries: essentially no human rights activities in China or in North Korea, or in Iran, Iran, the Sudan, or Syria, but activity regarding Israel and its alleged abuses, according to the Center's website.

The Carter Center 's mission statement claims that "The Center is nonpartisan and acts as a neutral party in dispute resolution activities." How can that be, given that its coffers are full of Arab money, and that its focus is away from significant Arab abuses and on Israel's far less serious ones?

No reasonable person can dispute therefore that Jimmy Carter has been and remains dependent on Arab oil money, particularly from Saudi Arabia .

Does this mean that Carter has necessarily been influenced in his thinking about the Middle East by receipt of such enormous amounts of money? Ask Carter.

The entire premise of his criticism of Jewish influence on American foreign policy is that money talks.

It is Carter-not I -who has made the point that if politicians receive money from Jewish sources, then they are not free to decide issues regarding the Middle East for themselves.

It is Carter, not I, who has argued that distinguished reporters cannot honestly report on the Middle East because they are being paid by Jewish money. So, by Carter's own standards, it would be almost economically "suicidal" for Carter "to espouse a balanced position between Israel and Palestine .

By Carter's own standards, therefore, his views on the Middle East must be discounted. It is certainly possible that he now believes them. Money, particularly large amounts of money, has a way of persuading people to a particular position.

It would not surprise me if Carter, having received so much Arab money, is now honestly committed to their cause. But his failure to disclose the extent of his financial dependence on Arab money, and the absence of any self reflection on whether the receipt of this money has unduly influenced his views, is a form of deception bordering on corruption.

I have met cigarette lobbyists, who are supported by the cigarette industry, and who have come to believe honestly that cigarettes are merely a safe form of adult recreation, that cigarettes are not addicting and that the cigarette industry is really trying to persuade children not to smoke.

These people are fooling themselves (or fooling us into believing that they are fooling themselves) just as Jimmy Carter is fooling himself (or persuading us to believe that he is fooling himself).

If money determines political and public views-as Carter insists "Jewish money" does-then Carter's views on the Middle East must be deemed to have been influenced by the vast sums of Arab money he has received. If he who pays the piper calls the tune, then Carter's off-key tunes have been called by his Saudi Arabian paymasters. It pains me to say this, but I now believe that there is no person in American public life today who has a lower ratio of real [integrity] to apparent integrity than Jimmy Carter.

The public perception of his integrity is extraordinarily high. His real integrity, it now turns out, is extraordinarily low. He is no better than so many former American politicians who, after leaving public life, sell themselves to the highest bidder and become lobbyists for despicable causes

That is now Jimmy Carter's sad legacy
