Yeah, I think it is really close, sometimes the spacing between the letters is bigger, and the "o" on "don't" more a squatty o. maybe more space between the "L" and the "I" in lie.- MDG

We all need to sleep.

Good work.

I am limited by the 10.5 x 8.5 print area of the t-shirts... I don't know if there will be enough room to put facial expressions unless we scale everything down.

I like the ants between the t-shirts. When kids start playing with crayons, they use a different color for every letter. It needs to be looking like those crayolas - MDG

Did you not see the thesis in early child education that MDG did for Sarah Golden that got her a PhD from Berkeley – GG

What that does that have to do with anything? - MDG

When you first start writing you don't write all your letters the same size, sometimes the font is 10 versus 15, small o big N.... - MDG

In "steal" you could have the "e" backwards, have to use different fonts all the way through. You need a kids handwriting - MDG

Have you not seen my handwriting? – GG

Yeah, that's close – MDG

MDG is ignoring me right now and working on "expressions" – GG

Have against each word an "expression"?

When you are stealing, lying and cheating, do you have the same expression?

Is anybody looking?

You are always watching for who is looking when stealing, lying and cheating.

You never know who is looking.

When I lie, steal or cheat who is looking?

Be ready they always come back. Your best defense is cleaning. Don't leave any food.

Dont like the ant over the "e", it looks like a thing in French. Just a little higher, the ant needs to be closer to the collar.

For the bib, try blue and white horizontal stripes, and pink and white or any combination as long as it is babyish, any color is fine.

The letter is too straight horizontally.

They don't write straight-straight; sometimes they write up, down, sideways....

Sometimes the "e" is backwards...try all the letters backwards...

Ps – Call me at any time if the satellite connection goes down. I am blind copying one of the technicians.

Ps I – You should be able to connect all the missing dots started out well before that "dotted photograph" of my grandfather Israel Issy Gevisser's immediate family's 42 B. GEVISERIS 42 shop in Vilnius, starting even before the massacre of my great maternal grandmother's entire immediate family in the tiny village of Plonsk, White Russia-Poland which did not end pogroms or how quickly the "comfortable" forget and the damage it does to their brain and that much more to each successive generation unit someone one day may wake up and say, "wait a second; isnt it true that when you tell a secret it is no longer a secret; and to keep reminding people of this fact is like talking to a brick wall, and what did that Berlin Wall coming down do for those who have such short memories who forget only because they are comfortable and lost the wondering Jew in them, and how much more difficult was it to trust your brother, sister, mother, father, uncle, aunts during the times of the pogroms when there wasn't the internet and the Jewish people didn't have a place they could call home..."

Tomorrow, I will help you piece it all together, but see if you can do it ALL on your own.

Time for dinner.

Maybe child's writing, a little crooked, not so straight, and maybe we can think of a design maybe a stick figure.
