Subject: PURPOSE OF WARS...---...RE: upset

The use of the word "drastic" along with "I am sure" says everything about how very drastically wrong is her and her mother's value system.

The fact that you would respond so "caringly", giving of not only your positive energy but so very informative and in return you are put in the "dog house" says everything about how very drastically wrong is her and her mother's value system.

How much more repetitive are you willing to be given what you know is your limited time this go around well on your way to returning of an ant which is your choice?

The other option is to make a "clean break"

even if it is only for a couple of days at our sacred Stone Home, not to convince her or her mother; on the contrary to get you to see up close what a life of an ant is all about.

When last

"shopper"

Marie

were at the stone home we saw a large ant nest close to the entrance.

The fact that your first sentence shows how very bright you are, that your psychology went right over her ant head says everything about you taking the high road but when dealing with an ant there is no way to convince them apart from them pulling out all stops to have you join them in their ant-circus and when unsuccessful to put your down even more and you cant get any lower than the “dog house” as they are left to fester over their antics.

Oh well, she is trying her best whatever her tactics to manipulate you, to do the “pouting” thing but you are not responding but she might come around. You are giving her the benefit of the doubt.

Why go on and on unless you may feel the need to explain to her how extraordinary well my so very logical thinking wife knows to ask the mindful question that connects the dots between the DAAC who interfere with the light and how all the markets including the currency markets requiring the free flow of Knowledge-Information-Light all at the same time, shut down when people are too afraid to go out and shop?

Are we all so bored that we want to write forgetting we have all those who seek negative attention now fully documented with a very clear chronology of who knew what and when did they know it not only about the Diamond Invention but when “consciously” deciding to just take the money from those with blackened hands just because it was there for the taking and no one apart from your conscience telling you otherwise.

How many times do conscienceless people need to hear that they are fooling no one but themselves!

You are brilliant to let her make the move.

Pretty interesting!!!!

You go in the “dog house”, fine; but can you imagine how she feels that she isn’t giving you any chance?

She knows she is being an intellectual midget no different to anyone accepting anything from someone whose “blackened hands” they CHOOSE to ignore!

Again, remember this is a time to relax and enjoy each passing moment as the anxiety of the brain dead makes them that much more paralyzed in their thinking not knowing one minute from the next who is aware of their intellectually midgetry but knowing it is inevitable that besides for God knowing all those in their inner circle beginning with the shitheads will be up to speed.

Take the day off knowing that tomorrow is going to be that much better no matter what now knowing how the markets work and the purpose of wars to make certain the markets do not work allowing those with the biggest guns to own when the fighting subsides not only more weapons of war including the resources needed to fight the next war and the wars thereafter but at least equal in importance those individuals who whilst making all the “civil laws” decide for everyone when to wage the next war and the war after the next.

Great smile Shunit!

You are right to feel that way.

I don't know if I would feel any different than you do, if the roles were reversed.

That said, you have it wrong about what you've describe as an intervention; Gary and Marie don't care what you think. This isn't about changing your mind about anything. Gary doesn't want to waste anytime and that includes trying to bring you up to speed, but I want you to be there to see that this isn't a cult or anything like that. Marie actually doesn't like talking about the same things that Gary does. Marie is very artistic and loves shopping and being stylish. I wanted you to meet Marie so that you could see that even someone as out-there as Gary can have a normal personal life.

You have to make the decision that you think is write for you, even if that means you don't support me; but I think that you at least owe it to me to find out what I am doing before you say emphatically no. What have you got to lose except maybe a Saturday afternoon?

This is not about you being more or less important; regardless of your interests or anyone's interest in this; there are going to be changes happening that will affect everyone in the US that uses oil.

<http://abcnews.go.com/International/wireStory?id=3663456>

The Iranian President and the President of Venezuela met yesterday; Both leaders don't like us and Venezuela is the only country outside the middle east that we get oil from. If they align as they say they are, saying stuff like "no one can defeat us." One has to be concerned.

Just because you don't hear people saying anything, doesn't mean that people are doing things right now to protect themselves; The price of gold continues to rise because of the awareness of the imminent change.

I promise that if you come down tomorrow, there will be no lectures to you, and it will certainly not come from Marie. Again, I just want you to meet her because she is so normal and worldly.

I can't make you come down, just like I can't ask you to share the same views as I do; but that doesn't mean that I don't want to have your opposing view in my life.

I love you Julia, I know that you don't trust that I am doing what is best for you/us, but I know that you will understand as soon as we send out the first vodcast which will be tomorrow.

If we don't get 1 million hits in one week, I will do what ever you want me to do; including working a 9-5 job. But when this is picked up by mainstream media, you will not feel the same about what I am doing.

I love you,
Adam

I am starting to feel like I don't know who you are anymore. I can appreciate that you are going through a rough time, but you are scaring me by being so drastic.

I do not want to spend my Saturday with Gary and his wife. I want to spend it with my husband. I do not want to be talked into your new life by going down to Del Mar and have you, Gary, and marie spout off to me while I sit there silent and smiling like I give a shit. I am sure the 3 of you talked about having me down and how you could convince me that what you are doing all makes sense. Count me out.

If you continue to make these choices, I don't know how much I'm willing to accept. I don't know if that matters anymore because this seems to be more important to you than our relationship, as I've told you point blank I don't support you.
