Subject: THE QUEEN ANT SPEAKS!!! HEY Lilah

The queen ant is not ready to replace you with one of the other.

She, the Queen Ant aka Marie said just prior, "Practice makes perfect".

And prior to that the Queen Ant said while I am the main entity speaker ant I mustn't forget that I am nothing but a worker ant every so often I get sent to explore new territory.

She was a whole lot funnier than what I have written above and when I read it back to her she said, "skip it".

She also now says that I am "not the best representative of our colony, those chicken legs are kind of a little questionable; there is a defective gene in the colony!"

I wanted her to tell you all this herself so you could hear her saying it all in her so very cute French accent but your cell phone message answering system is full.

MY cell phone isn't working but I retrieved a message from you that seemed like it was sent this afternoon?

Don't fret over the video.

She would not be the first "it" in the world who isn't "down and out" to have the mentality of "I'll deal with it when I have to" not to mention her ending, "I don't support you" so typical of a most brutal slave master.

All a matter of conditioning and remember my mother didn't waste time letting me know the importance of her being raised by her grandmother who watched as her entire immediate family had their throats slit by a gang of marauding Cossacks out on the town having fun killing Jewish people.

When you see headlines like, "California Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger on Sunday gave Britain's main opposition Conservative Party his action plan for winning power and overhauling Prime Minister Gordon Brown" how can the Chinese or any real military and industrial power takes us Americans seriously and at the same time give us a break!

I talked with Julia this morning.

I got her to understand my priorities by asking her to think about what would she grab if we were to have our building on fire or a big earthquake. That got her to realize that the only irreplaceable items, are us and our cats.

It took about 30 minutes to get her to understand, although she still has the mentality of "I'll deal with it when I have to".

I have been messing with the video files, but it only shows two 23 minute sections, and I can only view one of the files. I will work on it tomorrow. I guess we were not meant to use the video after all.

I don't know if I will be able to come down tomorrow. I need to check on a job and I have to pick up my little brother in the afternoon.

I will use the time tomorrow to write questions so that we can try a Q&A format to see if it flows better.

No.

Let me now know what you are thinking.
