Subject: BOY DO WE HAVE TIME TO WASTE! - Round Table Discussion - GET IT!

Adam,

Marie and I can't get over the "butter one" with Dr. John K. Pollard Jr.

What have you been eating or not?

You made Marie and I laugh although we have been laughing a whole lot lately while not forgetting despite the total lack of humanity, the lack of backbone, all the sidestepping going on throughout the world, there is still life here on earth as well as most of all hell for all those who usurp their limited authority, the digital record, the chronology all there in black and white spelling out clearly not just for God what is said but what is not said and then to top it off Devin sent earlier this email below; don't you just love his "deficiencies"? Marie asks, "Does he mean your little surgery, boy do we have time to waste?"

Gary:

Been too busy the last week or so to be in contact. Skiing, rapid drug detection technology (from israel), due diligence on a potential purchase, the filing of a patent, and a few other things.

Left S&W w/ the collapse of the stock price. What's happening? I've seen an intense flurry of emails; but I haven't read anything for over a week, maybe two. Just filed everything.

I missed a funeral at a Synagogue in LA on Easter. My buddy, who used to be a treasury agent, and a consultant, got a staph infection from his bullet-proof vest when I sent him to Iraq on a project. The infection led to a heart attack. He recovered in Ramstein AFB hospital. Then he was at a sidewalk restaurant in LA and he got nailed by a car. He broke his leg. He recovered; but had problems with clots ever since. One got him. God obviously wanted Mitchell back.

In early May I have to go to NY for another funeral (long-time family friend), to Denver to the State Assembly(I got elected at the caucus on Super Tuesday) and I have a few other things going on. Apart from that, I should have time for a visit in May, or in late June.

I rarely bother with Adam's emails. Has he selected a date for the seminar? By the way, the survivalist community is extremely interested in what you have to say about Debeers, diamonds, wealth preservation, & the fraud of the federal Reserve, etc.. You should link with, and place articles, on the following: the survivalblog, Jews for the Preservation of Firearms Ownership (JFPO), New American Truth Magazine, The Ludwig von Mises Institute, eCademy.com. Also, you might want to start filming some snippets of your discourses and posting them on Youtube and Myspace. I am certain you can have 10,000 friends withing no time. Linking your site to these thers will help drive traffic to you. A web guru buddy of mine has been inspecting your website and thinks you can easily generate hundreds, if not thousands a month in advertising. Adam can pay himself if he gets off his butt. He should get off the drugs too, they won't help.

How is Marie's back?

Congratulations on your anniversary. I am sorry your deficiencies won't allow you to have any more children. 🍷

I've heard a lot of talk about your joint exercises; but have seen little result. Maybe you should adopt. My Israeli buddies are concerned that the Arabs are winning the demographic contest.

Just got back from karate, going to shower.

Cheers,
Devin

Ps - My emails are only seen as "going on and on" by those unwilling to confront their demons beginning with those in their immediate families who only hang around to get something out of them.

There is no "love lost" between Devin and his sellout father who like Devin knows better.

There is no love lost between Jewish brothers and Jewish sisters just like there is no love lost between Jewish people and Gentile, just like there is no love lost between people of different color, race, ethnic background, sex etc etc.

Everyone is pretty much a criminal given how each one of us has the excuse that there is still The IT and his Cow out there who make Attila The Hun look like a good guy.

Stay smart by not buying in to a single word Devin has to say beginning with his nonsense about being ex-communicato these past several weeks, days, months, year who really cares, apart from God/G-d also having the time of His-Her life watching these imbeciles dig their own graves to hell which is now, here, this very moment on planet Mother Earth for all those, not just the thug, the coward, the bully, IT and all those who associate for a single moment with this evil of evil, best of all The IT now has to live with his biological son Jonathan Stewart having incriminated him as he violated not only a Restraining Order by coming within 150 yards or so of my residence but the fact that he actually stepped foot on the premises and now there are two oil paintings of Marie's that are missing.

Equally important, don't let Devin distract you with his talk about his "Israeli buddies are concerned that the Arabs are winning the demographic contest" since Devin understands perfectly well the fear he and each American Commanding Officer has right now that more people like Sargent Amanda Lopez are understanding with each tick of the clock why it is that Israeli Commanding Officers do not need to use any brute force on captured enemy soldiers given how the State of Israel has always ever since its founding on May 14th, 1948 had most of all truth on its side beginning with the fact that the US Government that keeps people like Devin and his father in business has never been a friend of the fledging state of Israel, a fact of life well known to the most sensitive of both British and American Commanding Officers who have beginning in Israel's War Of Independence shared not only the intelligence that the corrupt British-US Government shared with Israel's enemies who are not the Arab masses only the US-British tyrants, but helped place saboteurs directly in the enemy camp.

I just noticed a follow up from Devin:

Sidebar to Devin: When did your fallout with Smith & Wesson occur? Did you manage to get me that larger bullet clip, for Marie of course. Do you think I will need to go back to court to have Judge Hendrix approve Marie now moving up to a Glock? I still plan to win you over with love! Marie who is very busy baking a banana bread, says, after I read her back that last sentence, "You are kidding right? I have never seen it!"

Why don't you and Paul Robinson after working through this email as well as what I wrote him earlier in response to his utter nonsense grab hold of every one of your Black brothers and sisters throughout the world who have been pulled over for "driving black" and have them attend at least this ongoing symposium, if not hold a separate but of course equal, seminar-workshop and I will leave it to both of you geniuses to figure out the price and at the same time why not go back now this very instant while you are online to get Smith & Wesson to become a corporate sponsor of just3ants.com; bearing in mind two things: first, Paul is hoping to reach your level of financial security before then telling the world to "Ef off" just like you; and second, Smith & Wesson are at least not hypocritical.

Have you noticed how very angry the crooks are and getting increasingly angrier with themselves as they figure out that with each passing moment not only is my already extraordinarily large footprint on the Internet getting exponentially bigger but with each passing moment they cannot even count on a poorly paid assassin to get rid of me, leaving them increasingly in their own inflicted self misery not even able to call upon God to help them out.

The Meek With Teeth Shall Inherit The Earth

Let me know which of your Israeli buddies wants along with Israeli Military Intelligence and the Mossad an advance copy of my Part VI email to President George W. Bush

Subject: RE: Round Table Discussion - GET IT!

Devin,

Would you like some popcorn?

Does it make you feel better about yourself to see me distracted? I haven't been laid in a few months, and occasional the hormones get the best of me. Do you remember what it was like to be in your 20s? What did you see for your future? Have you learned anything from the mistakes of your youth? Will these lessons be taught to your children?

Do you care?

What do you care about? Motivation is everything because it allows one to predict the actions of another.

Right now the world is centered around money and power, but if you look at history, it is wrought with paradigms; from philosophy, to art, to war, to religion, etc. etc. Just as you thought you mastered money, life comes a long and evolves around you. Do you think that you have backed the right horse?

You are undoubtedly familiar with Ben Franklin's, "In this world nothing can be said to be certain, except death and taxes."

I think he got the death aspect correct, but I would say the only other certainty is change.

Did you read my email to Tefo? Does it make you feel better to see that he is a voyeur too? Does it make your inactions more palatable? Or should I say potable to remind you that your children have clean water, but tens of millions don't. Do your children deserve more opportunities because of the vagina they came from?

Your legacy of inaction when presented with an opportunity is being written every moment of every day that you don't live up to your potential. What is your potential?

What do you think of my observation about nature maintaining balance and destroying anything that doesn't contribute to that balance? Don't answer that.

Have you started to exercise for your visit to CA? How is your heart?

Sidebar to John K Pollard Jr: Gary and Marie tell me that you can no longer taste your food, so I won't bother asking if you want butter on your popcorn.

Cheers!
Adam

P.S. When you were my age, did you ever see yourself as becoming a gun runner or being afforded the position to be able to ask for a meeting with the President?
