Subject: FBI visit

Quick follow up.

Adam L. Tucker was visited between 10:30 am and 12:50 PM about 20 minutes ago by an FBI agent who simply left his card, given how ALT was out on a walk along the beach in Solana Beach where the Great White recently struck!

Maybe you want to think about not only responding to me sooner rather than later but to make contact with my cousin Mark Gevisser.

Also please provide me with any edits that you think are needed in that 3703 odd word email I just sent you.

Be well,

Gary

Subject: SMART - THE PERFECT STORM II - doubt - reply

Dear Jackie,

Did you receive your copy of the email I sent earlier to Adam L. Tucker?

The hyperlink below takes you to an email I sent Dr. John K. Pollard, an 80+ year old alumni of MIT and Cornell University.

Apparently, not all my emails make it through to Dr. JKP Jr. who I suspect is going to go increasingly quieter as "time marches on" and his "distractions" don't even work on distracting him.

Bear in mind that Dr. JKP Jr. just like everyone who doesn't want to have to work for a living understands perfectly well the exponentially increasing need in particular of the United States and all its satellite regimes spread throughout the world to maintain here in the U.S. the "economic draft" versus a regular draft that you find in places like Israel where each and every Israeli understands exactly why they are fighting and who is the enemy; at least that has been the case until very recent times when Israelis are beginning to question why peace hasn't arrived as Israel's leaders get increasingly comfortable and of course "fat in the belly".

Moreover, the likes of elitists who come in all colors, shapes and sizes and from all racial groups are increasingly dependent upon their "gift of the gab" to make themselves "interesting", realizing that once one's basic needs are filled as is the case with Dr. JKP, a Lily White Wheaty Eater and people like Devin Standard and Paul Robinson, both Black African Americans as well as pretty much everyone on my one of a kind email list, the only thing they are interested in is having great sex which of course requires that both individuals are in very excellent physical shape otherwise I couldn't think of anything more disgusting than sex.

There is nothing in the least bit funny for the average Israeli who is not filthy rich and is only seeking peace with their neighbors so as for them and their children and future children to live in peace and quiet to be finding out how easy it is to forge in an instant an ever lasting peace in the Middle East, so long as the United States and its very well paid mercenaries led by the CIA were to leave the area and in the next instant the gun-money-power vacuum would be replaced by traders of goods, services and commodities who don't benefit in the least by war that inevitably bring lawyers and tariffs and barriers to trade so very instrumental to keep up the Diamond Invention which is at the heart of all the world's conflicts, at least for the past century when the 3 Branches of the U.S. Government granted the De Beers-Anglo American Cartel, the cartel of cartels, the worldwide exclusive right to own the drilling industry.

Most people and I would at this time include yourself, are good; i.e. unlike the ruling elite who have brainwashed the middle class throughout the world into equating education with intelligence with money, and therefore you most likely do want to contribute to the betterment of humankind, of course the oxymoron of all time, and have never really given much thought to the subject matter I just happened to "throw out" at you ever so recently.

You have most likely thought things were pretty much "black and white" in South Africa with people like Helen Suzman followed by Tony Leon and now this Helen Zille being the "good guys-gals" heading the opposition to the government in power but "sumhow" [sic] you never saw the 3 Branches of the US Government so extraordinarily "openly supporting" the Apartheid Regime for some 45 odd years while of course talking out of both sides of their mouths and that includes each and every member of the United States Supreme Court.

You would know that the greatest opponents of the South African Apartheid Regime were Afrikaners and at the same time the most violent supporters of the Apartheid Regime were also Afrikaners.

You would also know that most of the books written as well as Hollywood movies made including those made in South Africa about the Apartheid years only show the Afrikaners as "bad", never the "flip side".

Moreover, you would also know that Jewish South Africans in particular have always been shown just like Helen Suzman and Tony Leon as "good", never again any books or movies made about for example the Orthodox Jewish Lazarus clan of Durban North, South Africa, also like American Charles Engelhard "open supporters" of the so violent, so obscene Apartheid Regime with all their also so "puritanical laws" just like what we have in the United States; and also no surprise that the Lazarus clan were afforded the best seats in the house in our so very opulent orthodox Jewish synagogue-temple located on the corner of Silverton and Musgrave Road in Durban where I was born and lived for 1 week shy of 21 years before again immigrating to the United States on March 17th, 1978, armed with a letter of introduction signed by Mark Gevisser's father, David Gevisser that my mother Zena had obtained as an "insurance policy" in the event something were to happen to her prior to me establishing my "bone fides" with David Gevisser and Charles Engelhard's one set of lawyers located on Bush Street, San Francisco who upon meeting me for the first time just prior to leaving Chicago for New York City where I joined Codiam Inc., the DAAC's principal price fixing and money laundering operation in the United States, had no problem getting their ir "arms around" the fact that I had more than the right "blood line" going in my favor given how very worldly I was at just age 23.

It didn't matter the fact that I had only 2 years work experience in the United States where all I really learned was that Americans only discriminate against all those they can get away with discriminating against regardless of a person's sex, color, race, or religious background; just so long as someone knows how "to make money" that is all one needs in order to be part of the "in crowd".

Not to mention you of course perfectly understand that all the major religions are geared since the time of Christ and Mohammed to simply weaken the masses as in "turn the other cheek" as the clergy steal blind from the poor.

Shameful isn't it that no one else with my credibility spells it out so very clearly.

I just checked Drudge Report to see if President Bush has either suspended trading in the shares of public corporations and/or withdrawn all US forces from bases in some 130 of the 190 countries throughout the world and I couldn't find anything in any of the headlines and nor was my name mentioned although the top news headline right now is PAPER: Gas could go to $10/gal...

Joe Carroll of Bloomberg News knows it is just a matter of time before each and everyone he knows, the same with Lars Trupe, the Sociology-History Torrey Pines High School teacher in Del Mar, California, start mocking him to "hell and gone".

The same of course with my cousin Mark Gevisser, Tony Leon, Helen Suzzman, Helen Zille, Thabo Mbeki, Nelson Mandela, Paul Robinson, Devin Standard, Dr. JKP Jr. etc etc including pretty much everyone on my email list which represents a statistically valid sampling of the world's literate and most crooked human population.

I am quite frankly not really looking for the "good" in you or anyone else to help you do the "right thing" but to do what makes the most logical sense and join me in helping www.just3ants.com simply give peace a chance; the alternative is simply so very easy to contemplate.

You should understand that I have walked away from many a multi-billion US Dollar, Euro etc etc pay day following my decision in 1980 to beat the DAAC at their own game by simply continuing to be very quiet and to build up my team from the "bottom up".

There are today, however, only a handful of people in the entire world who perfectly understand the paradigm shift I created with my first website www.footsak.com that I have been mentioning time and again in all my very heavily broadcasted communications beginning in the fall of 2000, and yet not a single person in the entire world, apart from of course those handful of people have understood the extraordinary value I had created with that one most basic looking website; both the Revlon Make Up Chart cartoon as well as the opinion of Judge

Stein as it relates to the epic Revlon Class Action Lawsuit complaint that I played a pivotal role in developing as well as executing flawlessly, nothing more than "smokescreens".

Now I will spell it out for everyone.

Perfect Storm II - that was mostly written by Newell Starks, an officer of Citicorp Venture Corporation, the most successful leverage buyout arm of Citigroup, CVC specializing in management friendly; i.e. shareholder hostile takeovers - accomplished what the most sophisticated "money power" in the world including the most senior ranking members of the DAAC thought to be humanely impossible.

Let me explain in detail.

Martin Alonzo, the Chief Executive Officer of Chase Industries [stock symbol CSI], a relatively small public corporation traded on the New York Stock Exchange, and who owned just 10% of the outstanding shares of CSI was refusing CVC's management's request to put CSI "in play" in order for CVC which owned some 60% of the outstanding shares and very much in "financial control", to realize the full profit potential of CSI whose share price was languishing only because Alonzo who was getting on in years was not ready to step down which would have been required were CSI to merge with a much larger operation, again so as maximize the share value of CSI whose shares at the time Newell and I first published Perfect Storm II were trading at some US$7 a share, at least half their value were a halfway competent management group to take over.

CVC, however, were not willing to "go to war" with Alonzo because Alonzo held on to the very dark secrets of CVC's extraordinary success; again their specialty, shareholder hostile takeovers.

Alonzo was that "honey flower" you also see in Steven Spielberg's epic 2005 movie MUnIch who ends up "taking out" a seasoned Israeli Mossad agent something which could only happen in Hollywood movies given how each and every member of the Kidon, the Mossad's assassination unit is intimately familiar with the Mossad's heavy dependence on female assassins who just look like hookers including those who speak perfect Dutch, Afrikaans, Italian, French etc etc.

Alonzo, again while aging, was not about to be distracted by CVC's top brass putting the slightest amount of pressure on him given how making more money was no longer his motivation, just like Dr. JKP Jr. and the overwhelming majority of good-for-nothing selfish bastard people on my one of a kind email list which I only share with a selective few and of course it wouldn't take a degree in advanced rocket science to figure out who else besides for my very brilliant math wizard artist painter wife, Marie Dion Gevisser whose two of three brothers work for the RCMP [Royal Canadian Mounted Police], although her eldest brother Andre, retired just a few years back, his last stint at the Canadian Embassy in Washington DC which many would agree has the best view of Capital Hill.

Not to mention most aware people in the world including members of the RCMP haven't forgotten how the CIA shipped an innocent Canadian citizen who they thought was a terrorist to Syria where he was brutally interrogated.

Now read that paragraph once again and then look at how the US Government is just now talking about the brutal Israel Air Force taking out some time back a Syrian nuclear plant that killed a bunch of North Korean engineers who happened to be at the facility at the time.

Again, how difficult is it for you to get your arms around the CIA working with Syrian intelligence officers to brutally interrogate a citizen of a neighboring "friendly" country such as Canada?

Then again you know about South African Dr. Death who was under the command and control of the CIA who spearheaded the South African Apartheid Regime's biological weapons programme.

Back to Perfect Storm II.

Alonzo simply liked being the top dog of CSI and all the money in the world wouldn't have been enough to have him retire until such time as he had finished "playing business" and he knew that CVC perfectly understood that he had them "by the balls" given again how he was one of the guys CVC relied upon to say "nice things" about CVC to other crooked managers of public corporations who owned minority positions in public corporations and who were willing to screw their shareholders and cut a deal with CVC who would patiently, methodically and ever so painstakingly execute a rather ruthless "management friendly" takeover of the shareholders' public corporation, something that happens each and every hour 24/7 if not more.

But, again, no one including Alonzo was expecting THE PERFECT STORM II let alone written by two very sophisticated Wall Street players who thanks to Newell Starks I had the "inside scoop" and why it was that people like Newell who understood how this story was so extraordinarily powerful-valuable, in that it embarrassed Alonzo, first and foremost, amongst his employees who began communicating with me following my providing links on CSI's Yahoo message board to footsak.com.

Pretty smart wouldn't you agree, although it might take you a little bit more time to digest how just this one website in no time at all could have gobbled up websites like Google in an instant.

So you can begin to understand why someone like Newell Starks began to get "pissed off" with me when I was unwilling to give him an ownership interest in footsak.com that me no more than US$20; I didn't even use a programmer to load up any of the 3 hyperlinks; only later I may have had Adam L. Tucker put a counter on the homepage which I promptly took down once the number of hits began to go through the stratosphere as the "money power" people all around the world began to wise up to what Newell Starks and I had accomplished, but of course they couldn't duplicate it, because it would have been all their death nails.

Pretty smart, agree?

You now should understand perfectly well that had I decided to promote our accomplishments at footsak.com simply writing something like I am doing right this moment, each and every shareholder in the world who thought that the management of their public corporation were trying to screw them would first come to us even before going to a skilled and experienced Shareholder Class Action Litigator like Mr. Jeffrey R. Krinsk Esq of Finkelstein & Krinsk who I have worked with intimately going on a decade and who only right now would fully understand why even he couldn't fully appreciate why I didn't stick with footsak.com and save myself the US$20 a year it costs me to maintain each and every one of my 100 or so websites like just3ants.com, under construction from the "bottom up".

A great part of my credibility is my willingness to walk away from one very big pay day after the next, time and again, even before turning down for the first time, some 28 years ago, to become, beyond a shadow of a doubt, the mineral as well as cash richest person in the world when taking over as head of the DAAC from Mark's father.

Money, remember is just "one means of exchange" and folks like the Mossad don't need money, or gold, or oil to pay either for their weapon systems or their own intelligence and why you would understand why some of the smartest Israeli military intelligence officers reporting directly to David Ben Gurion thought I could one day easily end up head of the Mossad assuming I wasn't killed.

Moreover, just because I walked away from getting my very good name in newspaper headlines or appearing at the top of the Forbes 100 richest people in the world didn't mean that I was stupid.

Again, if you have any doubts please email my F-C wife MDG, mdg0013@yahoo.com who thought she had lost a 500 Euro bill I gave her this morning to purchase some very luscious paint on canvas bearing in mind MDG is very much the "head of household" to the point of deciding when she has taken in enough of G-D-Nature wherever we are, better yet where there are no miserable good-for-nothing but whining lost human souls to say, "Ok, I am now taking you to bed!"

Currently, I am still relaxing in our Stone Home here in the most magnificent Cleveland National Forest, preparing to ride the superfast Ducati ST4S back to the coast, now stretching my legs continuously after yesterdays sunset walk that first began with my running to catch up to MDG as I ran into "sum" [sic] problems getting out the last email I sent you last evening, and then when I caught up with my very athletic "no excuses" wife, we then hung together for a few minutes, passing a couple of good looking and in pretty good shape mountain bike riders, before I, who was shirtless but carrying a small water camel pack on my back, then took off running the remainder of the 90 minute loop walk of the famous and rather treacherous Noble Canyon trail and getting back to our cabin/stone home well before dark.

Which reminds me of how Marie would often describe our most awesome Pypeetoe, "He is all feet, no teeth to his bark and afraid of the dark."

Now type in to Google Search Pypeetoe, the unique name of our super Italian Greyhound that my wife Marie and I lost in the very prime of life last June 28th to a fast moving train heading, I believe south, near this one beautiful tree which Marie hopes to paint one of these days with La Jolla in the background, and you may come across this communication below:

<http://nextraterrestrial.com/pdf/maggie%20ticket1.htm>

I doubt you stopped reading and very possibly did more than read the first page of The Perfect Storm II which I knew was a "winner" amongst those such as Dr. JKP Jr. who allowed his formal education to interfere with his learning which made sense of him ending his career as a stockbroker for AG Edwards when he told me he found it boring just like his reaction to MDG's profound words of 3 years ago when she decided to write one of her very few emails to Michael "Windy" Winn, a local Del Martian politician-journalist:

Lack of knowledge-information-light-power, power to change the world stems from humans being lazy and fearful from embracing the truth. The truth is too disrupting for some people too busy keeping track of all their lies from day one.

Now let me have your thoughts on the business card MDG and I suggested Adam L. Tucker come up with; to repeat the email I sent ALT at 8:34 PM yesterday.

Let's get back to the business card. I know this may be too much but it should all be very small but with white background [also less expensive] and clear font it might work.

How about verbiage that goes front and back:

If you let people treat you like an ant [back] you become an ant.

The world would be far better off if women were [back] on permanent PMS then they wouldn't put up with any of the bullshit!

No intelligent woman would dirty their hands by investing in diamonds and the emotional aspect of this trade is wearing thin. [back] Your youth will reflect on it badly.

Lack of knowledge-information-light-power, power to change the world stems from humans being lazy and fearful from embracing the truth. [back] The truth is too disrupting for some people too busy keeping track of all their lies from day one.

$E=mc^2$ =[back]= $2 c mE$

The Meek [back] with teeth shall inherit the earth.

Again, I doubt very much you are bored with anything I have to say at this point and would like to know more about the communications, forget for the moment the awesome video, I have begun with a couple of people I met and videotaped at the inside bar of Il Forniao the other evening which began with this one White American lady expressing on camera her most diabolical racism towards Mexicans which you understand is simply the fact that deep down she knows in her heart that she nor any one of her customers for that matter would be able to compete with Mexicans on a level playing field and why her attitude is like most Americans who support any of the current candidates for President of the US or for that matter any one member of the heavily corrupt US Congress to simply "nuke them" Mexicans if they stir too much.

It is possible that one or more people from Il Forniao have already had contact with this one woman who owns the lingerie store at the Del Mar Plaza and who also could have made contact with one or more of the others who joined in and who are all also caught on camera although the latter group were unaware of all that had transpired previously; all of them however, very much about "making money" and of course judging one another including me and ALT based on how much wealth-money we had or didn't have.

Don't you feel your life getting increasingly not only interesting but assuming you haven't been co-opted-corrupted you are very possibly for the first time in your entire life beginning to look forward to the awesome future that awaits all those who wake up before it is too late and decide to stand tall.

Keep Smiling!

Gary
