Subject: DR LAURA OUT OF BUSINESS - What do you think of me sending this to every ceo that I can reach?

Interesting that only Adam Tucker, now self designated "Investor Relations" for justIIants.com was the only person in the "To" section responding to this very important news item about China's energy needs, once again newsworthy that I first picked up on Drudge Report last evening as I was shutting down the computer prior to leaving for the awesome meal and time spent over at Il Forniao located in the Del Mar Plaza in downtown Del Mar, not quite kitty-corner across from the De Beers-Anglo American Cartel's two diamond-wholesale-retail money laundering operations that establish the price of rents and therefore the value of the real estate and in making their presence so very visible let everyone in the world who can think know they have bought and paid for each and every elected and non-elected government official including all the world's Presidents as well as those running public corporations, all the way down to the local city councils.

Not to mention my wild hairdo French-Canadian wife, Marie Dion Gevisser wore out for the first time her one just above the knee kilt that immediately upon entering Il Forniao caught the attention of a Scottish man who has been living in Del Mar for the past 20 years, and of course came over to our table, and so we have now at least one more email address.

To mention little of this very charming gentleman who came across so very genuine has a "nuts and bolts" website that he maintains spells out everything we need to know about him and his education business, although it may not contain reference to why he nearly ended up living in Botswana.

To mention in passing that while walkin-talkin-work-of-art MDG had some concerns about going out in "fall colors" when it is spring, she concluded her "venting" – remember well put together women just feel the need to "air" and most off all need space away from needy men who have this additional annoying need to give these most excellent problem solvers their waste of time testosterone filled solutions - by reminding herself that she was wearing spring underwear.

And let me simply say as you all now think more about the expression, "Emperor without clothes" that applies more than ever to the US Senate now on its last legs, that while I have seen this underwear before, now some 10 hours later I still can't get out of my mind how extraordinarily sexy it looked on her as this clothes horse of clothes horses, most beautiful bodied woman, still very possibly in the entire world, ever so slowly at first, disrobed last evening, after again one most awesome specially prepared vegetarian dinner – fresh artichoke centered around spaghetti - by Alfonso, Il Forniao's one most awesome roaming master chef, who in addition to overseeing both the regular and seasonal menu of Il Forniao, also prepared during his more than 14 hour shift, a unique menu for a group of 16.

And to top it off - as we all think more of food hoarding and rationing increasingly going on here in the United States - along with the great bottle of wine Ulysses the General Manager personally brought over to our table, was this sponge-like dessert, so light one could easily have consumed another without feeling one was adding calories, that together with this out-of-this-world sauce with Alfonso providing the details of how it was all so delicately prepared, had him well deserving a big hug and kiss from Marie who also now can enjoy for lunch the leftovers, that of course most mindless and emotionless who are not all fatsos would have devoured and then "sum" [sic] without in any one mouthful paying the slightest attention to all the delicious flavors that only a master chef can bring out of the freshest of fresh vegetables which again to those animal pulse eaters it is really hard to digest.

Now without talking much about toilets please give thought to Adam L. Tucker's mindless mother when reading once again this heavily 66 word broadcasted communiqué I sent her back on November 1st of last year that included a personal message from MDG to her "playing college" student daughter.

Not to mention in my following up communiqué to President Bush I will most likely begin by explaining why it is that US Americans, most of all, have such great difficulty "making the connections" such as why Japan that has been under the command and control of the US out-of-control military-industrial-complex from prior to Japan invading Korea and China well prior to Japan's so "contrived" attack on Pearl Harbor, has made "peace" with the United States but the United States' out-of-control military-industrial-complex has yet to give our stooges in Japan the "green light" to even apologize to the so non-aggressive Chinese people who produce for companies like Nikon some of the very best binoculars which I happen to own.

To mention little of how I could help President George W. Bush bring about world peace in less than 24 hours, explaining first of all that the poor of the world know everything there is to know about sharing and how very good it makes them feel, and so very productive at the same time versus those stingy who get that way because they know perfectly well their wealth is all ill-gotten and are so afraid to let go given how they are nothing but "Emperors without Clothes" once their worthless-fictitious DeBeers-Dollars cannot afford them even a pot to pee in.

To mention in passing this is all now going to be so very easy as the world, not only elitists, understand perfectly well my announcing last evening the critical importance of not only the "$ hit list" [sic] on just3ants.com but the accommodation that was reached by the DAAC and the Mossad following David Ben Gurion helped greatly by Afrikaner Field Marshall Jan Smuts getting their arms around the DAAC's pivotal role in not only the extermination of some 6 million Jewish people, but the DAAC believing along with their corrupted United States and British Governments that people like Ben Gurion and Menachem Begin wouldn't survive more than a handful of hours following the official start of Israel's War of Independence on May 14th, 1948.

Don't you just love looking in the mirror right this moment and thinking about all the teachers and professors reading this communication at the same time as you all, many of them never before even hearing my name mentioned, unless of course teachers like Lars Trupe of Torrey Pines High School have been working overtime trying to explain why he was so confident to place me on the "banned list".

So now that we are all well on the road to peace even if President Bush fails to immediately suspend the trading of shares in public corporations thereby protecting the innocent and naïve from throwing good money after bad, all that remains is how to deal with the most important quilt that comes from unappreciative, good-for-nothing lazy offspring; such guilt disappearing altogether when confronting one's offspring with the truth and they choose very carefully, so selectively in siding with the person who buys them off with money that only serves to satisfy the quick impulsive needs such as sex with a stranger that contains no head trips because there is no history and when that gets old and boring to then move on to the next victim; hence the high not only divorce rate in the western money me cultured without any taste world, but all those who are married either having affairs or thinking seriously about it, so long as they don't get caught and if they do to have enough stashed away for a rainy day.

Yes, nothing would make me feel better this day than putting Dr. Laura out of business and to have her concentrate on getting her one child now in the US Army to explain the importance of the economic draft for the survival and maintenance of his Trust-Hush-Fund.

You should all recall me mentioning this past Monday in this 2667 odd word "You are hurting my brain" email to Adam L. Tucker about yachtsmen mostly likely the strongest, the most agile and most of all, the most team oriented sports people in the world without knowing that Ulysses spent 17 years prior to joining Il Forniao, first as an Assistant Manager, at the highest levels of yachting where he participated in events such as The America's Cup and decided some 8 or so years ago after first breaking his back followed by 3 knee surgeries that before his next injury he should find a profession less taxing on the body.

Despite Ulysses large size one can see as he moves quickly and agilely around the restaurant why he commands the respect of all his employees who of course give 110% performance when he, so very smooth and of course taking no bs, is around.

Not to mention as things quieted down and Il Forniao began to close, both Ulysses and Alfonso who got to enjoy the tail end of the most excellent bottle of wine - only one bottle of Ulysses private stash still remaining - spent both quiet and meaningful time together with us where we heard their most interesting life stories which in the case of Ulysses began in 1913 when his great grandfather who had a very successful pasta factory in Italy gambled it all away on, I believe it was, a Saturday evening resulting in the grandfather soon after committing suicide which didn't prevent Ulysses from learning everything there was to know about the pasta business including marketing and sales before deciding when just 21 years of age - he will be 43 in July - to quit it all and take up rowing which he excelled in before joining the best of the world's best competitive sailors in races like the America's Cup.

To mention little of next America's Cup will once again be in Valencia, Spain and this time should we be around, and of course that includes Sebastian Capella to help organize us a spot on the Port of Valencia's brand new yacht, and better yet it would be great if we are all "fighting fit" as MDG and I are pretty much there despite our craving but only for a little dessert since it loses its taste after the first couple of bites especially when you should always be thinking of how to improve the plight of the poor who are only poor because of few, relatively speaking, rapacious individuals such as The IT and Co., and why for starters before anyone takes on President George W. Bush they should remember there is good reason why he is so strong and fit as opposed to the rest of the succulent politicians-priests-rabbis-mullahs, enough for me to vomit but unlikely since I also know better than to "pig out".

of me and Marie was taken yesterday by a Mexican gentleman on an executive training course at the Del Mar Race Track just as the sun was setting in yet another remarkably beautiful sunset

I will now share with you all this not exactly short "thank you note" I will be soon be placing in the mail to a lady still married to a retired Colonel in the U.S. Air Force who loaned me the book, The Churchill Years 1874-1965 after I first spent more than a hour with her husband now suffering from dementia:

Dear Pat,

The Churchill years 1874-1965 came into my life at the right time, although there is never a wrong time when one's goal is constantly one of searching for truth.

Suffice to say one colored photo showing Churchill standing on board a yacht belonging to Aristotle Onassis wasn't simply "out of place" but the fact that there was nothing noted is noteworthy.

It is not what is said but what is not said that mostly counts.

Perhaps, long before I take my last breath and hopefully not return no longer needing lungs – The Fish Rots From The Head Down - I will complete my book, THE HISTORY OF MONEY CREATION AND ITS FUTURE!, that may very well contain reference of this "out of place" photo given how Churchill - while old and not quite on top of his game as he was when escaping from a Boer prisoner of war camp during the Anglo Boer War of 1899-1902 which I consider the most important conflict in modern day history as the world turned so very ugly away, most of all from the "fine art" of oil paintings in favor, so very quickly, of “modern art monies” where those simply handed monies by the world’s military dictators dictated everything, including the value of easily reproducible modern art paintings - was surely aware of Onassis’ “background” that began and ended with this DeBeers-Anglo American Cartel “dark” shipper who wore his chicanery on his lapels, shipping drugs as well as armaments.

In my mind it was not that important what Churchill was thinking when being photographed on the yacht looking like it was docked, but more so those shooting, editing and publishing this very interesting and photo filled book, that in my opinion no household interested in the search for the truth should be without.

Thank you again for sharing it with me.

Gary

Not to forget those in the blind copied section who aren’t always vocal and nor are they all always “deafeningly silent” on the important issues of the day.

To mention little of the evening I first met with Pat’s husband, he shared with me his extraordinary life story including borrowing without asking permission and not returning; i.e. stealing this plaque that I first mentioned back on March 27th in this heavily broadcasted missive to Scarlett, right off the door of his bedroom during the Battle of Briton.

Such photo along with a handful others included along with the nicest card, in this well drawn and interesting envelope.

Don't you all just love how easy it is to keep a chronology of everything that most of all stops all the nonsense phone conversation "chit chats"?

Now go back and think more about not only what the Chinese government are thinking about their pending coal shortage but what they as well as the Mossad know about the Mossad's "co-oper-tition" with the DAAC, the counterfeiters of counterfeiters who have been in command and control of each one of the world's central banks beginning with the US Federal Reserve since its formation in 1913, one year prior to the outbreak of the first oil war.

And instead of being "philosophically wordy" like Adam L. Tucker to translate the Knowledge-Information-Light I am sharing with you all for free, in to simple math beginning with how China can afford to pay for its coal as well as oil needs were it to revalue its currency to a level welcomed by all its trading partners with the exception of the United States who mostly needs oil to fuel all the cars on the freeways, highways and roads versus the Chinese who fuel the world's economies by producing the goods its trading partners want and who also know today China is the world's only super military power, a fact of life perfectly understood by the Mossad who don't employ at their highest levels ignoramus; moreover smart enough when producing that Military Report of all time only available for public viewing on just3ants.com to not only include China but place The Peoples Republic of China at the very start of this most ingenious military report of all time.

Ps - Would someone please do me the favor of calling Adam L. Tucker on his cell phone USA 1-858-442-2858 and tell him to read an email I sent him the other day about "bugging me" given how I know "sumthing" [sic] about setting my own priorities, let alone thinking himself so smart that he should waste my time having to read his latest dribble when he could have used that time so much more wisely to continue his so interesting dialogue with Devin Standard:

Lets get the video up today

Isn't it amazing how folks who don't compete at the highest levels of team competition simply have no clue about when to "go for the jugular"?

Sidebar to President Bush: I assume you have now received from Defense-Offense Secretary Robert Gates a full briefing of the 1997 extraordinary military breach by the most senior United States civilian and military officials when a Chinese warship entered the port of San Diego without the US Admiral in charge being informed by the Pentagon; and of course you still recall in 1994 former veteran CIA top official Robert Gates advocating a preemptive military strike on North Korea while fully aware of the fact that what stopped US Forces during the Korean War at the 37th Parallel was the extraordinary superior and overwhelming military might of Mao Tse Tung's totally volunteer military who made total mincemeat of poorly trained and commandeered Allied Forces who were mainly American.

May I suggest further in order to make a better understanding of my forthcoming Part VII communiqué that you have Mr. Gates, assuming he hasn't already resigned, explain why he cannot just like the DAAC and the Mossad who never pay for anything unless setting up a spy_traitor, pay our so very poorly paid United States service people only serving to prop up the Trust-Hush-Funds of the filthy lazy rich who simply don't want to work for a living, whatever they think is a fair enough compensation to prevent them from "turning".

A line is being drawn between socio-economic classes; a position must be taken to secure a record of action. Inaction will invariably reflect culpability.
