Subject: DONT FORGET TO CLEAN THE SAND OUT OF YOUR EARS - RE: WINE

Let me know if you didn't get a copy of the email I sent a little earlier to Wynne Boelt.

BTW would you know the story behind US Navy Vice Admiral John Stufflebeem's demotion as US Navy investigates?

We will try come by but that is sunset time and it's really hard to get away at that time from our cliff house.

Philippe, I want you to take a very deep breath right now.

Take another deep breath.

I want you to just think about my close colleague Devin Standard, a Black American who "made it" when he was relatively young, lost it all just a little after he had "made it", knows exactly what it means to be "down and out", all the while finding the time knowing that his house's utilities were about to be shut off, to stand alongside me and my wife during a most critical time period in the summer-fall of 2002 when the biggest "f*ckhead of fu*kheads" [sic], The IT, attempted to murder my and my wife's very good names, with of course strong support from extraordinary "Money Power" people beginning with De Beers banker Roger W. Robinson who was using The IT's diagonally across next door neighbor, Mr. King Golden Esq., my one American attorney of umpteen years, to shoot "Our Man Roger's" poison tipped arrows; both King and Roger understanding perfectly well the deep depravity of the IT who is totally void of a human conscience, a slimeball of slimeballs who would stop at absolutely nothing, willing of course to use both his "tTOo" [sic] easily co-opted-corrupted children first as a "spear" and then as a "shield" when I began to respond to all their fast balls thrown at or near head.

Let me know first if you are still thinking about Devin as well as perfectly understanding the rest of what I wrote in the above paragraph.

I know that English may not even be your second language but your command of Portuguese and much more importantly your "worldliness" should have you figuring out everything I am getting at and if you don't to then ask me all the right questions.

Not to mention you would know that when "all else fails" to call upon your most basic knowledge of math, the most precise of all languages which could only have come about by one most extraordinary mind such as that belonging to one God that doesn't tolerate a single "lie", thus allowing a human being in the most depressed state of mind to instantly, assuming of course they can logically thought process as I am now teaching, to get a "grip on life" knowing that the worst that could happen is that they end up experiencing the same sort of death as Jesus Christ, the son of God; and if Jesus lived through it why wouldn't God be kind and merciful to a human being whether or not they believed Jesus was the son of God?

Devin knows perfectly well exactly where I am heading in my next heavily broadcasted communiqué given how for starters he has seen an "advanced copy" of this forthcoming communication that currently runs at nearly 16,000 words and then there is a follow up to that which runs at approximately 15,000 words.

Of course you are not alone in stopping thinking, "who has the time to read all this repetitive stuff" even if you didn't receive a blind copy from Adam L. Tucker of this email below he sent Tefo last evening that I came across a few minutes ago after I had left a voice message on Adam's cell phone to contact Devin and remind him that anyone in the entire world, not just United States citizens who do NOT support a total draft versus the current economic draft should be placed on the "$ hit list" [Sic], given how the "price mechanism" has been so interfered with by the De Beers-Anglo American Cartel, the mafia of mafia, the counterfeiter of counterfeiters, resulting in the price for everything apart from the sun, is all manipulated; and of course that includes why our military personnel are paid so very poorly; moreover, Devin is not the only one who cannot explain why the US military has not "turned", yet.

Subject: listening

Tefo,

Despite being Jewish, I appear to be white and with a decent tan and my ability to speak Spanish, I can probably "blend in" pretty much anywhere. (btw, the photo below is in front of Notre Dame in the summer of 2006; while in Paris I was flattered to find that most people's first instincts were to speak to me in Spanish.

What do you think of Ms. Helen Zille, Mayor of Cape Town and Leader of the Democratic Alliance? It makes it really easy to justify her presence on our "$ Hit List [sic]", with her not responding to any of our very clear emails. What's interesting is no matter what she and her administration say, they have no excuse for not responding, that will not somehow incriminate themselves in the process. Gary has such a talent of weaving a web so gently and so subtly that even the least self-absorbed can't see it until they are left with a very black and white decision.

Have you noticed that Gary is speeding things up; getting in people's faces possibly more than ever before?

Best I can tell, Gary is always ahead of the curve with his decisions, sensing the moment to move not by listening to others but by knowing it is the right time.

My stomach just growled; I am currently unemployed, although I have been able to do some freelance web work to pay my rent. I used to eat quite a bit of garbage, in fact when my construction business began to fail my only solace was knowing that I was going to have a shrimp burrito for lunch from a popular fast food restaurant (Rubio's). Now that I don't have so much money and that I have been eating healthy, my cravings tell me what my body needs. I was apparently on sensory overload and was drowning out what my body was telling me.

How do you know when it is the right time?

It's true, "right" is subjective, which in my opinion, there-in lays the genius in the design. In nature everything plays a role in maintaining balance; and without warning it also has a way of "weeding" out the players that don't contribute to maintaining that balance.

What is also ironic is that life doesn't have to be a bell shaped curve. There doesn't have to be a loss for every success.

Fidel Castro was once asked by an interviewer if he wears a special bullet proof vest because of the many attempts that had been made to take his life... Fidel proudly smiled, unbuttoned the top of his uniform and exposed the skin of his chest.

He replied to the reporter, "I wear a moral vest."

Cheers,
Adam

P.S. There is an interesting new song on that I posted on just3ants.com... best I can tell the chorus is "cunts are still running the world", although the singer has an accent so it could be my hormones speaking.

P.P.S Since most of the people on the CC list enjoys watching above all; here are a few web discussions that I have been participating in that might be of interest...

Not to mention, why not invite someone like Dr. John K. Pollard Jr. Esq. and all the folks over at Il Forniao including Davide the Italian barman and what about Jesus and Matt who studied geology at university but makes a living being a barman; and why not the entire board of directors of Il Forniao; and the more you think about it, why not the entire Brazilian government as well as all the governments of the 190 or so countries on planet Mother Earth and of course not to forget China as well as say Kerene over at the Office of the Israeli Defense Department Attache at the Israeli Embassy in Washington DC as well as of course, Ami Ayalon, former Admiral of the brutal Israel Navy and currently Israel's only cabinet "Minister without Portfolio", making Mr. Ayalon the most powerful person in all of Israel; and even if Marie and I don't attend may I suggest you begin the conversation by asking them first, if they don't mind being placed "on the spot"; and second, what they think about Liberal politician Tony Leon making the comment but in not so many words that with the POSSIBLE exception of racist and virulent anti-Semite Harry Oppenheimer, the Anglo South African head of the brutal DAAC, all liberals including himself and Mayor Helen Zille are racists?

Now of course Devin doesn't want to go back to being "dirt poor" since you also know it is first and foremost, not fun.

But Devin isn't "dirt poor" since all his basic needs are now met, at least for the remainder of the day.

Could you, without possibly having to use a calculator compute how much does Devin need?

Bear now constantly in mind that Devin isn't alone and nor is his Danish wife, Charlotte, in perfectly understanding that both their needs as well as their 3 children's needs are being met by those poor, primarily in the United States forced to join the United States' economic draft that in turn is dependent upon its survival, to create after murdering the poor in foreign lands, a refugee crisis in the 190 counties when their currencies are purposeful crashed and their best and brightest come rushing to our shores and then US Americans then have a new race or group of people to blame all their problems on, who in turn get replaced by the next group and so on; this vicious cycle, however, fast running on empty as the US military is increasingly less feared.

So can you explain what exactly stops Devin Standard from walking in to the Oval Office this very day knowing that he is in a position to demand an audience with President Bush?

Not to mention even more reason for Devin to help others if he still has any compassion as I believe he has?
