Subject: THIS STORY COMES WITH BLOOD AND TEARS

Pj,

Of course it makes sense that admitting to being a member of the DeBeers Anglo American Cartel should have them laughing along with stinky you.

Naturally, you have tried at least once pushing your tongue up against your cheek.

Funny how not everything is always a joke even when you think it funny,

"The Truth is Irrelevant to everyone".

Not every African has aids.

Not every African is getting more than their fair share of the graft-spoils of Diamond Drilling bit oil wars.

Not every African is corrupt to the point that they believe, "The Truth is Irrelevant!"

Not every American is obese.

Not every American suffers from dementia.

Not every American is a crook.

Not every African American is an "uncle Tom".

Not every Lily White Wheaty Eating American is raised in a dysfunctional household and those that are not are taught to trust both their environment and government and increasingly they do not.

Not every member of the DAAC who has no loyalty to country or religion just like some 99.99% percent of my Jewish brothers and sisters who are only Jewish when it suits them, is laughing.

Every senior member of the DAAC stopped laughing altogether when 3 years ago with these series of emails I, who didn't get off a boat just yesterday in Haifa harbor, Israel, broke a 24 year silence.

How do I conference you on my next communication, most likely tomorrow, with the Office of the Israeli Defense Attache at the Israeli Embassy in Washington DC when I will begin with the second page of a letter sent by a relative on May 3rd 1965 to my grandfather Israel Issy Gevisser with heartbreaking news about the murder of Issy's only sister Pessiah and all her grandchildren and great grandchildren by the DAAC Nazis, Shlomo's words, "this story comes with blood and tears" chilling!

If you would like I could try and get Adam Tucker to send you a file containing what I filmed from my end here at our cliff house in Del Mar, California with Keren, a rather intelligent female Israeli Military Intelligence officer, not yet commenting on the not so top secret ingenious Israeli Military Intelligence report that I happen to be the only credible person in the world broadcasting at light-G-d-speed, but she is very familiar with the Suzannah Operation of the summer of 1954.

Of course you wouldn't find it all that funny if it was you who got tortured before being hung as a result of you as well as David Ben Gurion and Co., which includes the Mossad trusting your Commanding Officer who in all likelihood "turned" prior to the start of this most important Israeli military covert operation in Egypt that I became intimately familiar with around the same time I was asking the most senior consigliere to David Ben Gurion, "How in God's name could Israel be trading weapons with the DeBeers' United States of America's South African Apartheid Regime?" who did one most excellent job as far as each and every corrupt elected and non-elected US government official who got bought off to ensure that DeBeers stayed one step ahead of every law on the books beginning with the most important Anti-Trust/Anti-Monopolies laws all geared to protect hard working and honest people from those who because of their political clout can "price fix" their commodity, including in the case of DeBeers, their exclusive Diamond Currency that is unlimited in supply, untraceable, lightweight, never inventoried and always price fixed at more than a barrel of oil; bearing constantly in mind that DeBeers in owning the drilling industry for a century now also own each and every oil well that has been drilled in the past 100+ years.

Such a "with it" Intelligence officer without, however, close to my knowledge and experience has been taking her time in confirming via email the first communiqué I sent her in "real time", Keren commenting to me upon receipt of my email sent to her last Monday at 1:45 PM PST,

"You look 6!"

But of course in addition to correcting her of my age back in January 1968 when I was a year older than the photo below showing me pointing an Israeli Special Forces commando's Uzi submachine gun at my middle brother Melvin, all the while pointing out and naming others equally as important as me at the time, including my mother and our Israeli-Argentinean "guide" Yehuda Matov, Keren and I also touched on the rest of my initial communication that included my 4 "Letters to the Editor" of the Jerusalem Post that got published; the first, an "open letter" to American-Israeli spy Jonathan Pollard held in solitary confinement in Marion Prison, USA, sent February 1st, 2000, some 20 days prior to the capture of top FBI counterintelligence agent Robert Hanssen who is alive today, you would think, because not only did he point his finger at Jonathan Pollard who provided Israel with nothing that they did not already know but this DAAC Soviet mole accepted payment, for selling out other significant US "human assets", in the form of DeBeers diamond currency; not to mention the torturous deaths those very high ranking Soviet Officers trusting US intelligence, received.

Keep laughing your head off Mr. Cavalier thinking you can continue to count on the DAAC controlled US Department of Justice to keep doing your "dirty work" as you focus mostly now on protecting whatever little of a "nest egg" you have remaining.

You would understand why the Mossad has chosen not to purchase from me a rather important promissory note I have with Mr. Newell Starks, a high ranking Citigroup officer.

Not to mention it is not every weekend that the board of Citigroup meets to decide whether or not they support President Bush immediately suspending the trading of shares in public corporations, a rather important matter I have been "harping on" since broadcasting this easy to understand 267 odd word "risk assessment" email to Bill O'Reilly of the Fox Network back on July 23rd, 2002.

Gold last trading on the spot market at US$806 a troy ounce which you know is not quite as important as the forward contract markets which have DeBeers' mining interests scattered throughout the world selling future production of not only their gold mines that they own courtesy of US Justice Department aka 3 Branches of the US Government turning a blind eye to DeBeers violating our sacrosanct anti-Trust laws for a century now.

I fully understand your nervous "knee jerk reaction" that has you attempting to "make light" of this very dark DAAC organization increasingly coming under the brightest of bright spotlights, and who continue to own such valuable human as well as mineral assets, but only for a little while longer.

It does not take a rocket scientist or even a snake like you to figure out those mining rights including those on US soil would be made "null and void" in an instant, were the US Supreme Court to have a single honest member which has you now thinking more about those payments in diamonds to Mr. Hanssen who was finally "apprehended" a month in to George W. Bush's presidency that has Hanssen now not only safe in jail but his family living off his DAAC pension.

Really, really, really so very funny Mr. Newspaperman that you think you can also be so very arrogant which of course you have every right to be just so long as you figure out that while everyone who keeps your company subscribes to "The Truth is Irrelevant" you not only have me to contend with but others like me who are so very peaceful, knowing that the violence you hope and pray for will soon end.

Laugh, laugh, laugh, laugh and then laugh, laugh, laugh until your belly aches and you figure finally that maybe someone like John Deng, a leader of the Lost Boys of the Sudan and who was in charge of burying some 15,000 of his brothers on DeBeers' death march as DeBeers, backed to the hilt by the 3 Branches of the US government, stole blindly but very arrogantly Sudan's gold and oil, decides that he nor his brothers want to be allied with "loners" such as you and increasingly miserable so very flaky scientists like Dr. John K. Pollard Jr. who most likely understands better than you the forthcoming communication my very brilliant, math wizard French-Canadian wife and I plan on sending John Deng, once of course I and my friends continue to count on "lost souls" such as yourself to increase the circle of those dependant upon my insight and analysis of the important events of the day.

As surprising as it may sound to you miserable coward-bully bastards there are a number of us who also speak rather good English who don't fall in the ranks of "easily impressed".

Those who don't have self-respect because of being raised in a household without any discipline use money, just one means of exchange, to keep everyone "towing the line", and it works so long as this one means of exchange is acceptable to those doing the "heavy lifting" beginning with the world's soldiers.

It is one thing for a loud mouth US Sargent to scream into the ears of US army grunts doing their basic training but once you realize this is not exactly how the best of the best of Israeli Special Forces commandos are trained and who later go on to serve in a host of other jobs where they don't lose either their edge or competitive spirit so you begin to think less about those such as yourself who feel the need to be liked.

I would bet my bottom worthless-fictitious and very blood stained US DeBeers-Dollar that you have always been attracted to weak-kneed flat line plotters who initially while outwardly "mellow" individuals made you feel so very strong, then again you could be all alone, or soon will be.

The only way to test a flat line so boring plotter such as yourself and The IT is to place you all in a crisis situation like we have going on right now where you are no longer in control, not able to sing along, revealing with each tick of the clock your so ugly growls which of course attracts more so those "easily distracted" seeking most of all "negative attention".

Negative people who thrive off the suffering of others, especially the humiliation of women, now more so than ever reveal your superficiality.

Look around you and all you will see who desire your company are those only interested once their basic needs are met as well as have enough socked away that their deficit needs don't "kick in" to have wild head trip free sex with you who they know are quite the opposite of them or so they think, outwardly you so very mellow but like them so extraordinarily manipulative.

Then of course there are those who don't speak any English who most likely wont have any difficulty figuring out why with each passing moment the masses of downtrodden who are not stupid, simply misinformed by the likes of you, should be celebrating big time.

You must understand that I heard more than just once my Royal Mater's insightful comment, "Men can be highly successful but never grow up!" which meant a whole lot more some 50 years ago given how increasingly there is so very little difference between the overwhelming majority of men and women in an increasingly obese society.

Extraordinary life of an inspirational woman

ZENA Gevisser-Zulman is one of the most remarkable and inspiring women I have ever had the privilege to meet. The name may not be familiar to everyone, but she has had her 72 years to the full with a stunning career which has taken her all over the globe and into the company of some of the world's top celebrities. For the past 22 years she has had a beautiful home in Wellescombe - a retreat from work and the family that takes her all over the world. Zena's positive approach to life was summed up when I suf-

Katharine Courts meets the truly remarkable Zena Gevisser-Zulman

is, Zena's own life is no less extraordinary. Born in Blackpool, the daughter of a Polish Jew and a Russian actress, she was forced to leave her friends and the life she loved when her parents emigrated to South Africa at the end of World War 2. She was just 18. "I cried the whole way," she recalled. "The end of the war looking boy of them all and within three weeks I had persuaded Bernie Gevisser to marry me," she said. By her mid-20s Zena had four children and a blossoming career, creating her own charm/model schools throughout the country and spreading her philosophy on the importance of being a woman. "I worked 18 hours a day, seven days a week while bringing up four children. You could often find me typing at 2am or dictating things to my secretary the second I woke in the morning," she said. With Durban accommodating the largest population of Indians outside their motherland, Zena frequently lectured groups of the richest and most influential Indian women, and through her contacts she was invited to spend two weeks at the home of Pandit Nehru in New Delhi - hosted by his daughter, Indira Gandhi, who later became Prime Minister. "Mr Nehru was one of the most overwhelming human beings I have ever met, an inspirational leader and pacifist," she said.

fered the embarrassment of pecking over a glass during an interview. "That's not a very good start," she told, to which she replied: "Yes it is. It didn't break." Even before I had met Zena, I was inspired after she sent me her book, The Working Cat, to read. I became utterly hooked with this anthology of short stories and poems dealing with ancient energy, parapsychology and the unknown. But, fascinating as the book had been an extremely exciting time for teens and life was wonderful. The relief after the fighting was immeasurable and we used to go out dancing all the time, and I didn't want to leave it all behind for a new life in a country which at that time really had nothing to offer." Word quickly spread among the South African youth that an eligible English girl had arrived in Durban, and Zena duly decided to marry. "I simply chose the best-

As a journalist, meanwhile, she has interviewed many of the world's top male celebrities over the years. Racing driver Stirling Moss, film star Paul Newman, singer Johnny Marsh, writer Somerset Maugham, Marlene Dietrich, J Crawford, Goldie Hawn, Shi Bassey and Gina Lollobrigida is no less impressive. Of Goldie Hawn, Zena says: "She is one of the funniest young, and she really does giggle all the time. Everything she is very funny and she has a tremendous life, which makes her look wonderful." In 1984 Zena married the young wizard Alan Zulman, Mount Zion in Jerusalem. The couple had known each other since he was 18; he is now though both look young. Since their wedding they have not spent a day apart a week and a half while Alan was called to another country during an illness which forced Zena to stay behind. Zena's philosophies on the importance of being a woman have inspired tens of thousands all over the world. But she stresses: "It is important to realise I am not a women's libber or a feminist woman can be as successful a man, or more so, without resorting to feminism or trying to be more like men. "I love being a woman, but special and different, using woman's skills to achieve things. Equality between women down. "Men never grow up and very immature emotion. They can be extremely successful in science or other academic areas, but women are mature and can achieve much. After all, we have children - and what is greater than that?"

Men can be highly successful but never grow up presumably Henry Kissinger, cricketers Fred Trueman, Denis Compton and Wally Hammond, golfers Gary Player and Ernie Els - the list is a who's who in its own right. And Zena's list of female "credits", includ-

Movie moguls latch on to short story

ZENA's book, The Working Cat, has been published across the US, Australia and South Africa - and now it has been made available in Wellington by a small publishing firm. "We didn't market it much in this country because I am not so well-known, and the book is only available from one distributor, artist and illustrator Kerry Mollie," she says. "The book is only available from Kerry's Wellington shop, Amaze in Fore Street, or a Xerox shop." The book promotes Zena's own message of living - "whatever happens, keep smiling". It contains 22 pieces, including four short stories, a series of poems and parapsychology experiences, and the fascinating feature, The Menopausal Woman Needs Younger Men. Her first book, it is an inspiration from beginning to end, offering tips and advice, exploring ancient energy and the unknown. One of the short stories - One Clean Day, a drama set in the apartheid years of South Africa - has excited much interest among movie makers in that country and in the US, and the script has been sent to Will Smith, Denzel Washington and Whitney Houston as potential leading actors. "I hadn't thought of the story in terms of a film, but it could work very well," says Zena.

There is also a poem, Lament for Diana, written following the death of the Princess of Wales. It was distributed throughout surrounding villages at that time, and the book mentions that "in Wellington it was placed on a railing, and many brought flowers and placed them beneath it". The poem was to reach a worldwide audience, too, and Zena recalls: "Tears streamed down people's faces as they read the lines." The Working Cat also contains two highly poignant poems about the trials of motherhood - but it closes with an upbeat message with Zena's own cartoon, captioned "a night on the tiles, and all that, is better for you than the cat".

You would also have once possibly known that most highly successful men avoid like the plague easily impressed women who are attracted to the weak just like themselves.

What are your measurements beginning with your body fat percentage?

Please remove me from your list as well. I am a part of one of the conspiracies you mention, and find this e-mail both embarrassing and potentially dangerous. I helped sell the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles with secret funds from DeBeers.

Thanks.
